McCarthy's List of 'Risks' Sought by Defense Dept.

Won't Guarantee To Shield Names

WASHINGTON, June 3 (AP)—The Defense Department said today it wants Sen. McCarthy's list of 130 defense plant workers whom McCarthy says are Communists, as soon as possible. But the department would not promise to keep the names secret.

McCarthy (R-Wis.) invited the department Wednesday to send representatives to his office to get the names, after he was criticized at the Army-McCarthy hearing for not doing so. But he said he would exact a promise that the names be kept secret until the suspects testify before his subcommittee or a loyalty board.

SENDS LETTER
Assistant Secretary of Defense Fred A. Seaton outlined the department's attitude in a letter to McCarthy. Seaton declared that defense officials "cannot make any advance comment" to keep the names secret because they "must be free to act without consulting you."

McCarthy said Seaton's letter does not bring up "any insurmountable barrier" to giving the information to the Defense Department.

INQUIRY ON?
Seaton told McCarthy, "It is possible that the Department of Defense has already begun action regarding some of the individuals included in your list."

Roy M. Cohn, McCarthy's chief counsel, has charged at the Army-McCarthy hearings that the alleged "security risks" are employed in defense plants in Schenectady, Syracuse, Buffalo, Dunkirk and Rome, N.Y., and in Quincy, Cambridge, New Bedford, Lynn, Boston and Pittsfield, Mass.

The issue touched off a furor at the hearings today when Democratic members of the subcommittee demanded to know why

Unit Again To Rule Race For Congress

By BERT SPENCER

The district Democratic Executive Committee ruled unanimously Thursday the county unit system will be used in the Sept. 8 primary for Congress from the Fifth District of Fulton, DeKalb and Rockdale counties.

The decision came after appeals for a change by Morris Abram.

Morris Abram

Atlanta attorney and first man to qualify for the post now held by Rep. James C. Davis, and Roy LeCraw, who has announced he will seek the post.

Appealing for popular vote election, Abram termed the county unit system "morally wrong and politically indefensible" and LeCraw said he opposes the system because it allows a "minority candidate to win."

The committee set 12 noon July 3 as qualification deadline date.

Bill Todd, a former unsuccessful candidate for mayor of Atlanta, appeared before the committee and said he would run for the Davis post if LeCraw "for some reason does not run."

Meanwhile, Rep. A. Sidney Camp qualified Thursday with the state committee as incumbent candidate from the Fourth District.

Members of the committee present were Murphy Candler, chairman; John Dunaway, secretary; Mrs. Elbridge Freeborn, Vernon Frank, Douglas N. McCurdy, W. Colquitt Carter, Henry B. Troutman, Mrs. Katherine Weatherbee, James Mann, G. Carl Sims and William A. Lynn, who introduced the resolution providing for unit system nomination.

Senate Votes Housing Bill Hit by Dixie

Southerners Fear Mixed Projects

WASHINGTON, June 3 (AP)—The Senate passed the administration's "scandal-proof" housing bill today after shouting down a Southern Democratic move to scuttle the public housing section because of a U.S. Supreme Court anti-segregation decision.

The action came by voice vote after the Senate had approved on a 66-to-16 roll call ballot President Eisenhower's recommendations for 140,000 public housing units over the next four years. The Senate banking committee had recommended 810,000 units over six years.

SPED AHEAD
The bill, which also incorporates most of the administration's other housing proposals, was passed after only three hours of debate—extremely fast action for major legislation.

It now goes back to the House—which voted no public housing—and then to a House-Senate conference committee to thresh out differences.

Backing Eisenhower on the public housing issue were 38 Republicans and 28 Democrats. Opposed were 13 Democrats, two Republicans and one independent.

BIG PROGRAM

Public housing was the most controversial part of the vast program. The Southern Democratic move to eliminate the program was beaten by voice vote.

The Senate also rejected by voice vote an amendment by Sen. Douglas (D-Ill.) calling for 300,000 public housing units over a four-year period—more than double what Eisenhower asked.

Sen. Maybank (D-SC), a one-time champion of public housing, led the fight to ax the program. His motion was defeated by voice vote.

Maybank suddenly reversed himself last week after the Supreme Court upheld a lower court decision banning segregation in a public housing project.

LEADS FIGHT

As ranking Democrat on the Senate banking committee, Maybank led a successful drive in the committee last month to return to the original 1948 goal of 810,000 housing units over a six-year period.

The move to adopt the administration's smaller program was made by Senate majority leader Knowland of California. GOP senators decided at a party huddle before the debate started to support the 140,000-unit plan.

Maybank, explaining his switch in position, told the Senate he could not support housing that could not be operated "according to local custom and tradition."

McCarthy Says He'd Meet Ike

NEW YORK, June 3 (AP)—Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy said tonight he is willing to meet with President Eisenhower to settle differences arising from his controversies with high Army officials.

However, the Wisconsin Republican made it plain that he expects the President to be "too busy" to see him.

McCarthy's statements came in a filmed interview on American Broadcasting Company Commentator John Daly's program "Open Hearing."

"I think President Eisenhower wants to accomplish the same thing that our committee wants to accomplish," McCarthy said. "And I sincerely hope that we can do with this wasteful bickering."

FRENCH COMMANDER
Gen. Paul Ely

Paris Ousts Navarre in Indo Crisis

PARIS, June 3 (AP)—The French Cabinet announced today the appointment of Gen. Paul Ely, chief of staff of the armed forces, to replace Gen. Henri Navarre as commander in chief to meet the crisis in Indochina.

There was no immediate announcement of what new position had been chosen for Navarre. He has been under some sharp criticism here and abroad for his handling of the defenses of fallen Dien Bien Phu.

Ely, 56, had just returned from a fact-finding mission to Indochina after the Communist-led Vietminh captured Dien Bien Phu in their first all-out frontal assault of the 7½ years of war in Indochina.

The Cabinet withheld official announcement of Ely's appointment until it had formally notified the three Associated States of Indochina—Viet Nam, Cambodia and Laos. But ministers broke the news to reporters after the Cabinet met.

In a preliminary announcement, Secretary of State Aime Huguier said the new appointment also would carry out the duties of commissioner general of Indochina—an administrative post. This means Ely will replace Maurice Dejean, presently chief French civilian authority in Indochina.

Rebels Slam Ahead, Fell 200 Troops

HANOI, Indochina, June 3 (AP)—Three Communist-led Vietminh battalions, numbering about 2,100, wiped out 200 Vietnamese troops and mauled 100 more today in a sudden outburst of activity on the central Annam plateau.

The Communist-led rebel forces struck three companies of Vietnamese national army troops at Cung Son, 25 miles west of Tuy Hoa. This is about 220 miles north of Saigon and far south of the Red River Delta area.

The French High Command said the Vietnamese, outnumbered 7 to 1, fought valiantly but were unable to withstand the rebels' overwhelming odds. Two companies were killed or captured. A third company was badly pounded before cutting its way out and withdrawing to Ae Rieng, a post 50 miles to the south. That post itself had just been overtaken by an assault by a rebel company.

This was the first bitter encounter in eight weeks of Operation Alantale, which established a beachhead at Tuy Hoa and fanned out to recapture rich coastal farmland long held by the Vietminh.

Georgia Out Of Running for Air Academy

Georgia areas have been eliminated as possible sites for the proposed $126,000,000 Air Force academy, it became known Thursday in Washington when a special five-man commission reported narrowing its search.

The commission recommended Alton, Ill.; Colorado Springs, Colo.; and Lake Geneva, Wis., and, unable to reach a unanimous decision, left final choice to Secretary of the Air Force Harold Talbot in selection of the site for the "West Point of the Air."

The most prominently mentioned of several proposed locations in Georgia, which were among 400 in the nation considered by the commission, were near Griffin and in the Atlanta area near Duluth.

Russia Voted Down As U.N. Calls Debate On Bottling Up Reds

Thai Request For Watchers On Agenda

By A. M. ROSENTHAL

New York Times News Service
Special to The Atlanta Constitution
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., June 3—The United Nations Security Council rolled over Russian warnings today and voted to look into the possibility that the Indochina war might spread.

By a 10-to-1 vote—the Soviet Union's was the only "no"—the council put on its agenda Thailand's request for a "peace patrol" of United Nations observers to watch out for signs that the Communist-led Vietminh might carry the war to Thai territory.

ASSAILS U.S.

Before the balloting, Semyon K. Tsarapkin delivered a warning from Moscow that the move to bring the Indochina situation into the United Nations could only hamper the attempts at Geneva to work out a cease-fire. Tsarapkin said that the United States was behind Thailand and charged that the United States was out to wreck Geneva and prepare for "extension" of intervention in Indochina.

Thailand's spokesman at the council, Pote Sarasin, gave the reasons behind his country's move. He said that the Vietminh was operating in neighboring Laos and Cambodia, near Thailand's frontiers. He warned that Thailand stood in a "very real danger" and that the Vietminh, supplied from the outside, aimed to overthrow the governments of Laos and Cambodia.

OUNCE OF PREVENTION
Sarasin, who is Thailand's ambassador to Washington, urged that the council send observers from the U.N. peace observation commission to Thailand on the "ounce of prevention" theory. He held out the hope that the presence of a U.N. observer team would produce "deterrent effects" on the Communists. At only one point did he mention the possibility that attempts to contain the war might fail. Speaking in general terms, he said:

"Of course, if all the efforts of the United Nations fail and violence is used in disregard of charter pledges and contrary to international law and morality, then it is imperative for the United Nations to face up to that situation. But I am sure that every member of the Security Council would agree that this is

2nd Jackpot for Egypt: Rich Pharaoh's Tomb

CAIRO, June 3 (AP)—Discovery of the oldest untouched tomb of one of Egypt's ancient pharaohs containing a sarcophagus of red-dish alabaster was disclosed tonight by an Egyptian archaeologist.

The discovery was made at Sakara, about 20 miles south of the Giza pyramids where other antiquarians are in the process of uncovering the solar boats which Pharaoh Cheops, of the 4th Dynasty, is presumed to have built to carry him on his journeys through the heavens after death.

The newly discovered tomb is believed to be that of Sankhet, of the 3rd Dynasty, who ruled Egypt about 2750 B.C.—4,700 years ago.

His golden coffin is expected to be found inside the sarcophagus in the rock funeral chamber into which Zakaria Goniem burrowed last Monday.

Bradley Here To Boost United Defense Fund

By BILL DIEHL

General of the Army Omar Bradley, onetime chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and the nation's fourth five-star general, arrived in Atlanta Thursday night in the home stretch of a gruelling tour to raise $15 million for the United Defense Fund.

Bradley refused any controversial discussion at the outset of a press conference:

"I'm here to try to help raise funds for a very worthy . . . and non-controversial . . . organization. Let's stick with it."

WATCHED MCCARTHY

When asked if he had seen the McCarthy-Army hearings he commented:

"Some of 'em."

The discussion on McCarthy-Army hearings ended there.

Bradley, National campaign chairman for UDF, who earlier in the day discussed the present drive for the fund with President Eisenhower (honorary campaign chairman), wouldn't even predict the outcome of his Saturday-scheduled golf bout with champion Ben Hogan.

"BEAT BEN HOGAN"

Bradley will tee off at Peachtree Country Club in the annual "Beat Ben Hogan" contest (with an estimated 150,000 other Americans throughout the nation). Half the proceeds from these nationwide golf contests against Hogan's score go to the USO— which Bradley quickly added is close to his heart.

"I wouldn't have volunteered for this job unless I really felt keenly about USO and the UDF," he said with a smile. "It's a lot of work."

Last year, Bradley said, the Atlanta region led the nation in its contributions to the fund. "They reached the full quota and prospects there.

Cohn Avoids Calling Army Charges 'False'

WASHINGTON, June 3 (AP)—Roy M. Cohn, Sen. McCarthy's chief counsel, refused today to label "true or false" Army charges that he threatened to "wreck the Army" and "get" Secretary of the Army Stevens.

Cohn denied making the statements but would go no further than to say that Stevens and other Army officials and officers were "mistaken" when they made the sworn charges against him. He said he would not declare the charges "false" because to do so, Cohn said, would imply that the Army men told "a deliberate lie."

Cohn told the Senate subcommittee investigating the Army-McCarthy dispute that he "must decide" whether any witness at the hearings was guilty of perjury or was merely "a little careless."

Cohn made the statement at the 26th day of the televised hearings under intensive cross-examination by Sen. Jackson (D-Wash.). Jackson preceded his questions with a reading of the perjury law and told Cohn, "This is a most serious matter."

Cohn replied that he was fully aware of the law. He also charged that he and McCarthy were struggling against "a stacked deck." He said Attorney General Brownell and his deputy, William P. Rogers, helped to "instigate" the hearings. "Yet they will be looking at my testimony for pos-

Dr. Merritt

ST. LOUIS, June 3 (AP)—Dr. James W. Merritt, Atlanta, was elected Southern Baptist Convention secretary here Thursday. He succeeds the late George B. Fraser, Washington.

Dr. Merritt, a layman, has been the Georgia Baptist Convention's executive secretary the last 20 years. He has announced plans to retire from this position Dec. 31.

Other convention officers unanimously named Thursday in this 97th session are:

President, Dr. J. W. Storer, Oklahoma; vice presidents, Dr. Homer Lindsay, Jacksonville, and Dr. O. R. Shields, St. Louis; assistant secretary, Joe W. Burton, Nashville, Tenn.; treasurer, Porter Routh, Nashville.

Recommendations adopted at Thursday's session included transfer of the Royal Ambassador, boys' missionary organization, from the Vagabond Missionary Union to the Brotherhood. It authorized the employment of a Royal Ambassador secretary with offices at the Brotherhood headquarters in Memphis.

For a three-year period, according to the action, the promotion of RA work will be under the joint direction of a joint committee of WMU and Brotherhood.

The question of re-locating the Baptist Radio-Television Center, now in Atlanta, was referred for further study to the radio committee.

MIG Rips London-Belgrade Plane; Czech Craft Foiled in Escape Dash

VIENNA, Austria, June 3 (AP)—A Belgian plane loaded with purebred pigs was fired upon today over Yugoslavia near the Hungarian frontier. Crewmen said a Soviet-made MIG raked the transport with cannon fire, killing the radio officer and wounding the pilot and mechanic.

The surviving crewmen said the MIG bearing red star insignia dived suddenly out of the clouds on the Sabena Airlines DC3 and tried to force the two-engine transport toward the Hungarian frontier.

Their account said the MIG flew by the transport three times and then opened fire when the Belgian pilot ignored the MIG's maneuverings.

The cannon fire killed Joseph Lauwaerts, 42, the radio operator, and wounded Arsene Devreese, the flying about 6,000 feet over Murska Sobota, a town of 5,000 population about 10 miles from the Hungarian frontier and the same distance from the Soviet occupation zone of Austria.

Meanwhile a Czech bomber, its crew apparently making a daring break for freedom, crossed into West Germany today but two Czech fighter planes caught it and forced it back into Czechoslovakia.

A U.S. Army announcement said the bomber crossed the border in the Hof area late this afternoon. It was intercepted and "driven back" by Communist fighters, the Army said.

It was presumed the bomber crewmen were trying to escape to the West in a vain attempt to elude Czech jets constantly patrolling the Iron Curtain border to thwart such "freedom flights."

Give Allies Latest Facts On Atom, Dulles Urges

U.S. Friends Far Behind Russians
On Nuclear Arms, Congress Told

WASHINGTON, June 3 (AP)—Congress got an urgent request from Secretary of State Dulles today that this country's allies be brought up to date on the facts of atomic warfare.

Because of "treachery and treason," plus the scientific abilities of the Soviet Union, Dulles said, "Our potential enemies have a knowledge vastly superior to that of some of the nations that we count as friends."

FAVORS SHIFT

Dulles went before the Senate-House Committee on Atomic Energy to throw his weight behind President Eisenhower's request that present secrecy laws be relaxed so the United States can prepare its allies to "counter the kind of atomic warfare" the Communists now are believed capable of waging.

Describing the "very strict secrecy requirements" enacted in 1946 as outdated, Dulles said they have become "a real handicap in our collective effort with our allies to build necessary strength to resist aggression."

Dulles also urged adoption of administration requests for more latitude in sharing information about peaceful uses of atomic energy. He said some of the nations which are this country's chief sources of raw materials "want knowledge even more than money."

Asserting these countries are tending to turn to other sources for industrial information, Dulles said:

"It is clear to me that if this trend continues, the interest of the United States will be seriously affected. There is no need here to emphasize how important it is for us to stay ahead of the U.S.S.R. in providing knowledge of how to put atomic energy to peaceful uses."

Before hearing Dulles speak on the foreign policy implications of atomic power, the joint committee witnessed a public split in the five-man U.S. Atomic Energy Commission.

Patterson Edges Porter In Alabama

BIRMINGHAM, June 3 (AP)—Former State Sen. Albert L. Patterson today appeared to have won the nomination for attorney general from Lee (Red) Porter of Gadsden in the closest Alabama statewide primary race in 14 years.

The Phenix City attorney led the Etowah County lawyer by 1,404 votes in complete, unofficial returns from all of Alabama's 2,771 boxes. The Associated Press election returns included the official count from 56 of Alabama's 67 counties.

Patterson received 191,792 votes to 190,388 for Porter.

The State Democratic Executive Committee will poll the returns next week.

Porter, who carried the blessing of Governor-Nominee James E. Folsom, had trailed Patterson by anywhere from a few hundred to 5,000 votes since shortly after the polls closed Tuesday night.

Three other runoff candidates endorsed by Folsom won the Democratic nomination for statewide offices. They were Mary Texas Hurt, Scottsboro, secretary of state; Dr. Austin R. Meadows, Huntsville, superintendent of education; and James J. Mayfield, Tuscaloosa, Supreme Court.

Late returns:
Secretary of state (2,769 boxes): Hurt 239,561; Ed McBryde 136,334.
Superintendent of education (2,752 boxes): Meadows 210,528; D. P. Culp 174,712.
Supreme Court (2,771 boxes): Mayfield 202,146; incumbent Preston Clayton 159,170.

GOP Orders Farm Price Showdown

WASHINGTON, June 3 (AP)—House Republican leaders abandoned efforts today to save President Eisenhower from a direct rebuff on the farm price support issue and ordered a showdown meeting Monday.

Chairman Clifford Hope of Kansas told reporters after a closed meeting of the House Agricultural Committee that it had been impossible to work out a compromise between the President and farm state lawmakers.

He declined to forecast what would happen Monday. But other members predicted the committee would vote overwhelmingly to continue price supports on basic crops at 90 per cent parity for at least another year.

Many congressmen are reluctant to vote to lower price supports in an election year.

Roberts, Hobbled From Bullet, Testifies on Fanatics' Gunplay

WASHINGTON, June 3 (AP)—Three congressmen told a federal jury today how the House of Representatives was thrown into pandemonium when four Puerto Ricans shot down five lawmakers in a murderous attack last March.

Reps. Kenneth A. Roberts (D-Ala.), Ushers L. Burdick (R-N.J.) and Paul W. Shafer (R-Mich.) were called as witnesses as the four Nationalist fanatics went on trial of charges of assault with intent to kill. They face up to 125 years in prison.

Roberts, wearing a brace on his wounded left leg, hobbled to the witness stand on crutches to tell how one of the 25 bullets struck him just as a neighboring congressman said, "Somebody's shooting firecrackers."

IDENTIFIES THE 4

Shafer, who was not wounded, identified the four assailants and said two of them aimed directly into the cluster of congressmen on the House floor.

Burdick also identified them and recalled that after the second round of firing he thought the shooting was over "so I sat down and lit a cigar."

Reds Turn Down U.N. As Ceasefire Overseer

GENEVA, June 3 (AP)—The Geneva conference on control of the proposed Indochina ceasefire hit another snag today when the Communists rejected a proposal that the United Nations should police the truce.

Western leaders were equally firm in rejecting a Red proposal, which the Allies charge amounts to a "built-in veto" of all truce supervision. French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault said the Communist plan would lead only to "quarrels without end and without hope."

Bidault told newsmen that the Allies, who have spent six weeks in fruitless discussion here, cannot be expected to "palaver endlessly without result."

British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden announced plan to fly home this weekend for urgent consultations with Prime Minister Churchill. Informed sources reported after Eden's last week-end huddle with the prime minister that Britain would favor united action against the Communists in southeast Asia if no negotiated settlement is in sight by the end of this week.

American officials said the Reds now may be stalling until they find out whether their forces in Indochina can conquer the vital Red River delta.

Authoritative sources said today France will ask the United States for a firm promise of air retaliation if Communist warplanes from Russia or China strike at French positions in Indochina.

Conference debate on Indochina will continue tomorrow and then adjourn until Tuesday. The problems of divided Korea will be discussed Saturday and Monday.

Vocational Group States 7th Meet Here June 10-11

The Georgia Vocational Assn. will hold its seventh annual convention at the Biltmore Hotel here June 10-11, with more than 400 vocational teachers and supervisors expected to attend. The principal speaker at the opening session will be D. W. Brooks, manager of the Cotton Producers Assn., and hon- or guests will include R. D. Sectional meetings at the convention will include panel discussions on agricultural, industrial, distributive and homemaking education, and press relations.

Linder Says Court Killed Own Ruling

The United States Supreme Court's school segregation decision nullified itself, by implication, gubernatorial candidate Tom Linder said here Thursday.

Linder and gubernatorial candidate M. E. Thompson discussed the court's decision as Thompson spoke to Atlanta Jaycees and Linder addressed the United Daughters of the Confederacy here.

"If the court held that you cannot legally force students to go to different schools because of their color," Linder said, "then, under the same reasoning, the court, by implication, has ruled that you can't legally force students of different races to go to the same school."

PSYCHOLOGICAL EFFECT

The court said segregation had a detrimental psychological effect on colored children, Linder reported. The court did not say whether it would have a beneficial psychological effect on white children to be forced to go to school with colored children, he added.

If the court does hold that Georgia can't have separate schools, then the Legislature will have to shut off all school appropriations, Linder went on, because the State Constitution permits appropriations only for segregated schools.

In his speech Linder also paid tribute to Jefferson Davis on the birthday of the president of the Confederacy.

Thompson took obvious cracks at gubernatorial candidate Marvin Griffin and NAACP Secretary Walter White of New York, although he mentioned no names. He said the court's decision pleased primarily a Negro radical agitator "who came here to create strife among the races" and an "irresponsible candidate for governor." Griffin has been the most outspoken candidate on the segregation issue.

PEACE WILL CONTINUE

"In spite of the one irresponsible demagogue running for governor and the NAACP radical," Thompson said, "separate schools will be continued in Georgia and peace will continue among the people of both races."

Thompson charged that another of the present candidates for governor "kidnaped my school building authority child." Thompson reported that he proposed creation of the authority in his unsuccessful race for governor in 1950. House Speaker Fred Hand, now a candidate for governor, sponsored legislation creating the authority and became chairman of the authority.

Tito, Papagos Draft Balkan Alliance Pact

ATHENS, Greece, June 3 (AP)—President-Marshall Tito of Communist Yugoslavia and Premier-Marshall Alexander Papagos of monarchist Greece met with their foreign ministers today to draft details of a Greek-Turkish-Yugoslav military alliance.

Agreement in principle on the proposed Balkan Alliance linking the anti-Communist regime of Yugoslavia with the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's two southern members was reached following a similar state visit Tito made several weeks ago to Turkey.

At the end of today's conference, a Foreign Ministry spokesman said full agreement was reached on matters directly concerning the three Balkan neighbors. Turkish Ambassador Celal Tarai is to be briefed on all decisions reached and subjects discussed, the spokesman said.

Heavy Payroll

LYNCHBURG, Va. (AP)—It was a heavy pay day for Headquarters Company, 2nd Battalion, Virginia National Guard. The guardsmen wanted to show Lynchburg merchants just how much money the guard spends in the city. The $3,000 payroll was in silver dollars.

White's Slum Plan Deserves Support

Atlanta has adopted a new tactic in the war on slums.

Alderman John A. White, chairman of the city's slum clearance committee, announced Thursday a new program intended to do away with shacks.

The project calls first for a count on all off-the-street, back-alley structures being inhabited by human beings. Bona fide servants' quarters are the exception.)

After the number of substandard dwellings has been determined, they will be classified according to condition, with the goal their elimination by 1960.

The estimate before the census is that there are 2,500 to 3,000 units in the "unfit" class.

Slum clearance is not new in Atlanta. It has made steady progress since the program was started six years ago. The rehabilitation of 12,404 dwelling units in that time and the demolition of 2,663 is a good record.

The "new" about the plan announced yesterday is the switch in emphasis from renovation to tearing down. Atlanta's slum clearance chairman says he can see no excuse for the continued existence of back-alley shacks inaccessible to sewerage, lights and water.

Surely, there is little opposition to that viewpoint. Shacks that can't be reached by utilities are always readily accessible to the germs of disease and crime.

An expert on slums, no less than a man hired by the National Association of Home Builders to direct a national slum clearance drive, has said that no city can afford to put up with indecent housing.

Slums lower property values and weaken a city's tax base.

No good comes from them. They account for 45 per cent of a city's major crimes, for 55 per cent of juvenile delinquency, 50 per cent of arrests and at least that proportion of disease.

No city can afford slum areas. Public officials, realtors and most of the public have come to realize that fact. The quickest way to get rid of thoroughly unfit housing is to tear it down.

Evidently that is the Atlanta intent. And to it thousands of good citizens are going to say amen. The policy recognizes that good housing must be made available for those persons displaced by the demolition program. That, of course, must be provided, for that is the ultimate aim of the program.

Medical Scholarships

Just Won't Go Around

Ambitious to become doctors, but handicapped by lack of money, 65 young Georgians have applied for the 26 medical scholarships offered by the state.

The scholarships provide a yearly grant of $1,250 to medical students who promise to go out and practice in cities of less than 5,000 population.

The story is the same as last year when the scholarships first were offered—almost three times as many applicants as grants available.

It's a shame it must be like that. Rural Georgia could use three times as many doctors.

The Future of TVA

Hangs in the Balance

A not-so-quiet drama that will affect the whole South is unfolding this week at Chattanooga. In fact, what is transpiring will have a profound bearing on the entire economic future of a vast area that has witnessed a revolution as a result of TVA.

An Eisenhower administration task force is conducting public hearings on the future of the agency. It will present its recommendations to Congress later this year.

Headed by Adm. Ben Moreel and reportedly stacked against the idea of such developments as TVA, the task force was met with storms of protest by Tennessee political and business leaders. They charged that the group was biased, that it could not make an impartial appraisal and that the interests of the people served by TVA were in jeopardy.

Reminded of President Eisenhower's campaign declaration that TVA would be operated at "maximum efficiency," Adm. Moreel said at the outset that the group would not be bound to support statements made by the President during the campaign. TVA and Tennessee, therefore, can expect the worst.

Tennesseans, who voted their state for Eisenhower in the 1952 campaign, have had a rude awakening. They have heard the President describe TVA as "creeping socialism" and former President Hoover, whose agency the task force works for, advocate its sale. They have seen its appropriations reduced.

Looking at the terrific growth of the state, with thousands of new industries, defense plants and other developments as a result of TVA, the people of Tennessee are alarmed. They find the designation "creeping socialism" distasteful to the extreme. They point to the growth of free enterprise and industrial and agricultural revolutions resulting therefrom as the antithesis of socialism.

The lines are drawn. Tennesseans have been forewarned about the outcome. TVA's future is doubtful, indeed.

McCarthy Seeks Secrets Yet He Keeps His Own

Sen. Joe McCarthy continues to dispute the right of the President to withhold any executive department information from Congress. He would make every secret document an open book to use at his discretion, against all the principles of the separation of powers doctrine upon which the government was founded.

And yet as chairman of the Senate Subcommittee on Investigations, the senator is withholding information from committee members that is in the committee's own files. He has succeeded in withholding data about confidential informants, in direct opposition to his stand regarding the President.

The Wisconsin senator said last week that he would not respect secrecy stamps placed by "some little bureaucrat." He was reminded that the document he was discussing was classified by J. Edgar Hoover, director of the FBI, the agency charged with the nation's internal security.

In reminding him of that fact, Senator McClellan disputed the legal right of the committee to have a confidential document in its possession without executive permission, saying: "If we are not entitled to it legally, if we are not entitled to it by subpoena, then I raise the question are we entitled to get it by theft? I do not believe we are."

Like Senator McClellan, the people of this country would like to know if such possession is criminal.

Reds Move to Destroy Effectiveness of ILC

The Reds' use of the age-old diplomatic tactic of "divide and conquer" is not confined to their relationships with other governments. It extends to the fields of cultural, economic and labor relations. After a number of years in which they boycotted the International Labor Conference, for instance, the Kremlin's representatives have moved in on the agency, now in session at Geneva. Their motives are obvious.

Delegates from the free world realize that Communist participation in the conference is packed with dynamite. They know that any Russian representative present is a representative of the Russian government, not of free unions.

The British and Americans, as usual, are split on what to do. The British maintain that to seat the Russians as "workers' representatives" will work best in the long run; that then it will be easier to attack them on all fronts—forced labor, government subversion, lack of freedom, etc. The Americans maintain that it would be immoral to seat them at all.

At the outset, the Reds have won a tactical victory. They will devote their attention to destroying the effectiveness of the ILC through promoting discord and disagreements.

It Is Quite Chic To Go Abroad on a Raft

Another man has taken to sea on a raft, and hopes to drift on the currents from Peru to some South Sea island in emulation of the famous voyage of the Kon Tiki.

The man is a 60-year-old New Yorker and he plans to cross the Pacific alone on a raft made of seven logs. The Kon Tiki was larger and carried a mixed assortment of scientists and sailors. Nobody aboard went mad from loneliness.

Just recently a Frenchman crossed the Atlantic on a life raft in a deliberate effort to prove that the barren looking sea could be made to provide man with the means of sustaining life. He made it, but it was no fun, and he probably would not attempt the voyage again for less than many millions of francs.

This is the air age and thousands fly the seas each week as if they weren't there. How strange that flying the oceans has become strictly routine, while navigating them by the most primitive methods has become almost fashionable, and certainly the reliable way to attract the attention of the world.

Liberalization of Social Security to Permit More Retirement Earnings Called Fantasy

Atlanta — There has been a good deal in the papers lately, editorially and otherwise, enthusiastically commending Congress for "liberalizing" the Social Security law, with particular cheering because the amount a retired person may earn before forfeiting his social security benefits has been raised from $75 a month to $1,000 a year. (That is the way I have always seen it referred to.)

I may be dumb, but just what is there to shout about in this? Even my shaky arithmetic adds $75 a month up to $900 a year and breaks $1,000 a year down to $83.33 a month — or a total of $83.33 per month more than one is now allowed to earn.

So take it either way — an extra $100 a year or an extra $83.33 a month — what have you got? Not much, I would say.

Disagrees With Stand On Navy Catapults

Decatur — I should like to disagree with the premise of your editorial "The Navy's Catapults are Far From Foolproof." During World War II, I served aboard a small combat carrier in the Pacific as catapult officer, having the sole responsibility for launching all planes by catapult, as well as the direction and training of my crew in the operation, maintenance, and repair of the rather complicated machinery. Suffice it to say, we launched better than 4,000 combat planes with the singular loss of one bomber due to a mechanical failure. The pilot and crew were picked up, unharmed, by our Destroyer Plane Guard. Would you say odds of one in 4,000 were low, considering wartime conditions?

Your editorial stated — "Catapults . . . have been bad luck to many a pilot." Of all the many pilots I talked to aboard our ship, not one ever felt catapult launching was safe as catapaulting.

There was only one possibility of an "explosion" as you call it which was highly remote and could not occur with the proper sequence of fighter, bomber, launchings. We would also like to point out the catapult room is a restricted area where unauthorized people don't just wander in and out.

Democracy Is More Than Printed Words

Thomasville — Edson Marshall's letter to Governor Talmadge concerning segregation is filled with truth and common sense planning. Wise leaders will study the solution he offers.

Most of us are not ready for Georgia to leave the Union again. Some of the defiant are creating the impression that Georgia can "go it alone." I have taught in the white public schools of Georgia for 16 years. My loyalty has never been questioned. I have sat with many reluctant minds with American ideals, although I am disloyal to the idea of loyalty

Reds on Borders Don't Scare Turks

WASHINGTON — In the midst of the anxiety here, the fevers and the frets, the McCarthy-Armey fiasco and the strange decision in the case of Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer, it is some comfort to take a thought of Turkey. We here can do that very appropriately, since Turkey's prime minister is here with fellow officials. They are a cool, calm, and collected group—typical of their nation which sits literally at the very gates of Soviet Russia, and sits there unafraid.

Some of us who talked with Prime Minister Adnan Menderes and his associates, and felt much the better for it, were saying how fine it would be if he and his party could travel about our country, talk to our people and give them an example of how their people can sit next the threat without excitement or alarm. It's quite a confession for us that we, the most powerful nation in the world, need any such example. We never have before.

Turkey and her people have great confidence in us; in fact, more, seemingly, than we have in ourselves. We have helped them a great deal. We have given them economic aid with which they have done wonders in building up the country industrially and agriculturally. We have advanced military aid to assist in building up an army that is one of the best and has exhibited its caliber to the world in the units that fought by our side in Korea. The Turks are most grateful and, in return, are solidly back of us in our leadership of the free nations.

Her prime minister and his delegation are here to talk with our officials about strengthening the front against Russia in her part of the world. Our appreciation of what Turkey has done for herself—and for us—was voiced frequent-questionnaires. Doing away with our public schools would, in my mind, be a catastrophe. Surely no thinking citizen will approve such a plan.

Democracy and Christian faith are nothing if they mean only privileged words for history and Sunday school books. Both must live and work in order to have meaning.

Montags Make Money on Paper

Three-quarters of a century ago Sigmund Montag came to America from Germany. He was 14 years old. He had no money and no friends and next to no knowledge of English. But he had the kind of faith in America that made Jacob

Ellis and Andrew Carnegie capitalists of business and industry. Sig Montag attained citizenship and a horse and buggy. He went on the road selling from door to door. Within a few years he was able financially to bring his parents, his four brothers and a sister to live with him.

Sixty-five years ago he and his four brothers came to Atlanta and set up a small jobbing plant on Alabama St. Paper was their business, writing paper. They reasoned that man couldn't progress without paper and that with economic growth the demand for it would rise.

They reasoned right. Within a few years, the Montags were making school supplies, social stationery and letterheads. The business outgrew its quarters. It has done that four times since.

Today Montag Bros. Inc. will open their sixth, industrial home, a seven-acre plant at Highland and Lake avenues, on the 22-acre tract where the Ringling Brothers used to show when the circus came to town. The plant will be the most modern paper-converter in the world and one of the largest. The Montag company is perhaps the largest maker of school supplies and writing papers in America. Its "Blue Horse" label is known to school children around the world.

Montag Bros. has been and is a family business. Harold Montag, the present chairman of the board, is the son of the founder, who died six years ago. More than 80 of the 400 employees have been with the company continuously for more than 20 years.

Many a man has made a lot of money on paper and seen it get no further than the doodle stage. The Montag success has been in paper. It is a great Atlanta story. It's another saga of the American dream come true.

THE ATLANTA SPIRIT: From what I hear, I see that Irvin Johnson Jr., student at Georgia Tech, has developed just about the same spirit about Atlanta that most folks, including this writer, who went to school there 1906-1910, did: that if you live a good life on earth, you will go back to Atlanta when you die. This intangible spirit that no one can describe, smell, taste, see or hear, is called the "spirit" of Atlanta and, while escaping identification in exact terms, is very real. —Whitaker in the Grenada County (Miss.) Weekly.

The Next Crisis May Be Decisive

If you're too old to zoom around in a jet or even pilot an old-fashioned prop job, you still can help the Air Force in guarding the nation against a surprise attack.

The boys in the air are on constant patrol, for Russia is a close neighbor via the Arctic route, and radar sends out its seeking beams along our frontiers. This defense, good as it is, is not foolproof. For radar is yet to replace the human eye and ear. In even the best radar network there are dead zones through which planes can sneak at low altitude.

To guard against this and other eventualities, we have the Ground Observer Corps. It is a civilian group that aids the armed services, and surely is as patriotic as the most eager of uniformed fighting men.

The group mans courthouses, schools, fire towers, mountain tops and cross roads during the members' spare time. The object is to report all planes to the nearest filter center, and from that point the word is passed to the Air Force for evaluation, and if necessary, action.

In case you think Washington is fooling, and that the Civil Defense set up is all smoke and very little fire, the Ground Observer Corps is on 24 hour duty in a good part of the country. Along the Pacific Coast, then along the Canadian border to and including New England, the skies are under constant scrutiny. Planes are ready to take off on a moment's notice to intercept any hostile aircraft, for if an attack comes it probably will be from the north and directed at the great port and industrial cities of that section.

We have won the last two wars by the superiority of our industrial production. Industry will be the prime target because of this, and Atlanta is nicely up on the list of targets most likely to be sought. The Ground Observer Corps in Georgia is organized, but needs more volunteers, particularly in rural areas. It is on a standby basis, for Georgia, Florida, Tennessee, Kentucky and the Carolinas are likely targets and must be ready if an alert is sounded. It's a long way from Atlanta to Murmansk via the tourist routes if you can get a visa. But through the air and via the Arctic it is shockingly close and no passports are necessary.

This spotters corps was organized in Georgia more than two years ago, and in the last year the number of posts has increased from 350 to 700. There are about enough posts to adequately cover the state, and each post has some observers. However, while one post may have 175 volunteers attached to it, there are others with only three or four. In the event of a crisis—and the smart boys are sure any future enemy will let us have all he can one dark evening with no previous announcement—more observers will be needed by these smaller posts.

The signs are not cheerful. Recent events in Latin America have shown that the Reds are not content with just Asia. The already bad situation in Asia is worsening. Today, volunteers are reporting all planes along the western, northern and northeastern borders of the United States. In the Southeast they're ready for an alert. That is almost ready, for there haven't been enough volunteers to insure the right kind of job.

Good Christians Are Not 'Chameleons'

A friend who is a zoologist has spent much time in the study not of men but of animals, and he relates to me the wonders of the animal world. He was recently describing the miraculous way by which a chameleon can alter its coloring according to its environment. This change, or apparent change, of color is, of course, a protective device. The chameleon can camouflage itself by changing from brown to green or gray in a few moments. This has protected the chameleon and accounts for the fact that this lizard has survived when other creatures, having no such ability to adapt, have perished from the earth.

Ministers are often said to have "homiletic minds." They see in the most casual of circumstances some thought for a sermon. The story of the chameleon offered at once to me a homiletic suggestion.

Are not some people like chameleons? These fickle persons change their personalities and alter their standards of morality according to environment. Their favorite proverb is, "When in Rome do as the Romans do."

I remember a psychologist who, during World War II was explaining why some draftees, after they had donned their uniforms, seemed to become "different persons." Before going to war they had lived according to the highest challenges of the church and the Christian home. But once in uniform, they went to pieces morally.

The psychologist described this as an "interim ethic." This was a term he used to explain the loose behavior of soldiers whose moral life had been shaped by the fine influences of the home and family, but who did not have the inner strength to resist the new temptations which came with their new environment. "When they finally get back to their homes, they'll adapt themselves once more to the standards of their homes." Such draftees, and I guess there were a few of this kind, were like chameleons.

But let's not limit our thought to draftees. What about the man who as an usher in church on Sunday seems to represent every virtue characteristic of Christians, but who at work or play on Monday does things which no Christian should do? Or the Christian who, having come into the company of non-Christians, forgets the principles of his church and accepts the pattern of those about him? Or the business man who has an unimpeachable moral reputation when among his business associates on Main Street, but who gives himself to women, wine and song when he goes to a convention in a city 500 miles away from home?

The test of true religion comes in the comparing of the heart's response to God in the high moment of worship on Sunday with the life lived in the common happenings on Monday. A chameleon survives by its ability to change, but a human being who reflects the changing environment is weak.

British Awakening To Danger in Asia?

LONDON—Whatever impression the outside world may have gotten heretofore that the British are unaware of the dangers of a policy of vacillation with respect to the Geneva conference can certainly be erased now as unrealistic. For the latest comments from the press here indicate the exact opposite.

The London Daily Telegraph, papers supporting the Conservatives—the party which is today in power in the government—is calling for a firm statement of policy and is warning the Communists that Britain may have to consider a revision of her policy of waiting for the Geneva conference to adjourn before making any new commitments. Presumably this means joining the Southeast Asia security pact. "The Telegraph" had this to say the other day:

"It must also be recognized that the indefinite protraction of the negotiations without any settlement being reached would be a triumph not for us but for the Communists. Such an indefinite continuance of the talks would make it necessary to consider a revision of the present British policy of refusing to enter into any commitments until the conference has ended. There is an obvious temptation to the Communists to try and keep us indefinitely at Geneva, dangling the prospect of a settlement before us like a carrot, while Indochina is simultaneously settled by force."

"We should make it plain at Geneva that, while our desire for a peaceful settlement remains as strong as ever, unless one is reached within a reasonable time we shall have to join our Allies in seeking other stabilizing ways.

"In this way we could do much to bridge the gap which was opened between American policy and our own in the Far East."

"In essence, the American view is that by taking a calculated risk now we shall avoid the necessity of taking far graver risks later; we think it best to try negotiation to the full. Both views can be cogently defended."

"One must suppose, that there are in the Kremlin—perhaps even in Peking—men who for various reasons are appalled by the prospect of a third world war. If that be so, we must be careful not to undermine their position by undue weakness. If we are firm, they will be able to restrain the hot-heads in Indochina and elsewhere by pointing to the terrible risks."

"The best way of testing Communist intentions is by clarifying our own. They are not inflexible in detail; they depend to a great extent on ours. There would be no greater mistake for the Communists than to imagine that whatever happens we intend to do nothing."

State OES Meeting Opens Sunday at Macon

The 53rd annual session of the Grand Chapter of Georgia, Order of Eastern Star, will open Sunday at City Auditorium with delegates from all over the state in attendance.

Mayor B. F. Merritt will make a welcoming address at a meeting scheduled for 8 p.m. Monday at the auditorium where all business sessions will be held. The meeting will follow a banquet to be held at 6 p.m. at the Hotel Dempsey.

A memorial service for all members who died during the past year will open the four-day meeting Sunday.

Mrs. Ethel Moncrief of Columbus, worthy grand matron, and Phil Saxton of Atlanta, worthy grand patron, will preside at all sessions.

Mrs. Grace Bramblett of Atlanta and Lloyd Scott of Blackshear are in line for the top offices and will be installed at the closing ceremony Wednesday.

Business sessions will open at 9 a.m. Tuesday. All evening meetings will be open to the public.

OMAHA, June 3 (AP)—A City Council inquiry yesterday disclosed plans for Omaha's newest fire station made no provision for a fire alarm system or telephones.

5,000 Due To Attend FFA's Camp

COVINGTON, June 3—The State FFA Camp will open Monday for its nine-week summer recreational and leadership training program for Future Farmers and Future Homemakers of America.

More than 5,000 boys and girls from 159 high schools have made camp reservations, according to T. D. Brown, FFA executive secretary, and Mrs. Janet Barber, state FFA adviser.

Located on the shores of Lake Jackson in Newton County, the camp also will be the scene of the state FFA convention during the week of July 19 and of the state homemaking and vocational agriculture teachers' conferences during the week of Aug. 9.

This is the eighth year that Future Farmers have invited Future Homemakers to share the use of their camp and join with them in a recreational program that has been so successful it now is being copied by similar groups in other states, Brown says.

$300,000 Gem Yielded by Mine

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa, June 3 (AP)—A blue-white diamond weighing 426 1/2 carats and valued at $300,000 has been found at the mine which produced the world's largest diamond, it was announced today.

The gem was found at the Premier Mine near Pretoria. In 1905, the same South Africa mine turned up the famed Cullinan diamond, which weighed 3,025 carats.

Approximately $20,000 has been spent this spring to improve camp facilities. The improvements include installation of hot water heaters in all cottages, modernization of the dining hall, kitchen and installation of equipment for two cafeteria serving lines.

The camp staff, which will operate under the general direction of Brown and Mrs. Barber, is made up largely of persons who have helped with the camp program for several years.

Griffin Girl Wins Award

GRiffin, June 3—Lillian Elizabeth Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Levey Martin of Rt. C, was presented with the $4,000 George Niles Murray Memorial Scholarship at graduation exercises of Griffin High School in the school auditorium Tuesday night.

The presentation of the award, sponsored by the Dundee Community Association, Inc., was made by Supt. C. J. Cheves, who was one of a panel of three judges who made the final selection. Others on the panel were Judge Chester A. Byars and Paul Mitchell of the Chamber of Commerce. The recipient of the scholarship plans to continue her schooling at Georgia State College for Women. During her high school career she maintained a high scholastic average and at graduation was well up among the 20 honor graduates. She engaged in many extracurricular activities while in school.

Bills Would Free States To Boost Jobless Benefits

9 Senators, 80 House Members Sponsor Two Identical Measures

WASHINGTON, June 3 (AP)—Democrats introduced legislation today in both the House and Senate designed to compel states to boost unemployment compensation benefits by from one to two billion dollars a year.

Nine senators introduced the bill in the Senate while 80 House members were listed as co-sponsors of identical legislation introduced in the House by Rep. Forand (D-R.I.).

AFI APPROVAL

The American Federation of Labor, in a statement endorsing the bill, said a similar bill is expected to be introduced tomorrow by a group of House Republicans.

The legislation would establish federal requirements that states sharply boost both the amount of jobless benefits and the duration. The authors estimated average weekly unemployment benefits would be "almost doubled in some states."

President Eisenhower has recommended that Congress provide for covering approximately 6 1/2 million workers now exempt, he asked the states last January to boost the amount of benefits and their duration.

"FAILED TO RESPOND"

The Democratic authors of the legislation introduced today said in a statement that the states have failed to respond to Eisenhower's suggestions for more and longer benefits and that with 3,465,000 officially counted by the government as jobless it is time for Congress to step in.

"With total wage and salary payments declining at the rate of over 12 billion dollars per year," the Democrats said, "the addition of one to two billion dollars of purchasing power in increased unemployment insurance benefits is a necessary but exceedingly modest amount to help in propping up the national economy."

Payments are now running at about 200 million a month or just under 2 1/2 billion a year. Payments for the nation are averaging just under $25 per week, and the average duration is about 22 weeks.

Couldn't Pay for Gas; Charged in Car Theft

Because he couldn't pay for five gallons of gasoline, a 19-year-old Conyers driver Thursday landed in jail on auto larceny charges.

Patrolmen C. O. Anderson and W. D. Nash said police were called when the youth, Richard S. Lloyd, told a service station attendant he had no money to pay for the gasoline. Lloyd, who was turned over to DeKalb County authorities, insisted he purchased the car in Marietta. The patrolmen said the auto was reported stolen from Agnes Scott College a week ago.

3 on AEC Rip Plan for '1-Man Rule'

By ELIE ABEL

New York Times News Service Special to The Atlanta Constitution. WASHINGTON, June 3—Three of the Atomic Energy Commission's five members spoke out today against any increase in the powers of their chairman, Rear Adm. Lewis L. Strauss.

Their emphatic objections to "one-man rule" thrust into public view a sharp divergence within the commission between Truman and Eisenhower appointees.

TRUMAN MEN

All three of the protesting commissioners — Dr. Henry DeWitt Smyth, Thomas E. Murray, and Eugene M. Zukert — were appointed by former President Truman. Adm. Strauss and Joseph Campbell, the fifth commissioner, are Eisenhower men.

Murray expressed serious concern in a statement prepared for the joint congressional committee on atomic energy, over "the present trend toward centralization of authority in the chairman."

Dr. Smyth said, "No one man could possibly be wise enough to make alone the policy and planning decisions entrusted to the commission."

Zukert said that he would have no formal statement until he was called to testify before the joint committee. He told reporters, however, that "any addition to the power of the chairman is dangerous to the commission."

ASSAIL PLAN

The target of the Democratic commissioners was Section 21 of a bill introduced by Rep. W. Sterling Cole (R-N.Y.) and Sen. Hickenlooper (I-Iowa), to revise the McMahon Act.

It designates the chairman as "principal officer" of the five-man commission. Under existing law the chairman has no more authority than his fellow commissioners. He is, in effect, "first among equals," presiding at meetings and serving as spokesman for the commission but in other respects sharing authority with the other members.

FIGHTS SHIFT

Murray, a New York industrialist who has served on the commission for the past four years, urged the congressional committee not to change the existing structure.

"A one-man commission under any circumstances or a five-man commission that in practice functions as a one-man commission would be dangerous," he asserted.

The present trend toward increased power for the chairman, he warned, "will jeopardize the effectiveness of the commission form of organization which is so necessary in the field of atomic energy."

Yoshida Delayed In U.S. Trip

Admit Wire Taps, Nail Spies, Brownell Pleads

LOS ANGELES, June 3 (AP)—Atty. Gen. Brownell today pleaded that the government be allowed to use information obtained by wire-tapping against espionage agents to plug a loophole through which spies have escaped punishment.

The attorney general, addressing the Los Angeles Bar Assn., made no mention of the Army's controversy with Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis.).

STRAIT JACKET

Brownell agreed that invasion of privacy was repugnant to all Americans but he deplored the "strait-jackets" placed around federal prosecuting attorneys in not permitting them to use intercepted evidence in the trial of security cases.

"We might as well face up to the fact that the Communists are subversives and conspirators working fanatically in the interest of a hostile foreign power," the attorney general said.

He said that since the Communists have gone underground and they no longer resemble the old type Bolshevik, their detection has become difficult and this difficulty has been increased by their turning to the telephone "to carry on their intrigue."

CANT TESTIFY

Because these enemy agents will not talk in court and since federal agents cannot testify as to what they heard over a telephone, the Department of Justice is blocked in proving its case against espionage agents, he said.

"Surely this nation need not wait until it has been destroyed before learning who its traitors are and bringing them to justice," he pleaded.

Brownell said that authorized

7 Teen-Age Smokers Held In Huge Fire

EDGEWATER, N.J., June 3 (AP)—Sixteen-year-olds and a girl have admitted touching off a $2,250,000 water front blaze by careless smoking, police said today.

The fire last Tuesday injured 125 firemen, destroyed three warehouses, one containing 100 automobiles, and threatened an entire city block before it was brought under control.

Police Chief Edward Pickering said the youths, aged 13 to 16, have been charged with juvenile delinquency, trespassing and failing to report a fire. All were placed in custody of their parents pending a Bergen County court hearing June 18.

U.S. Slugs Away at Job Problems

New York Times News Service Special to The Atlanta Constitution

WASHINGTON, June 3—President Eisenhower's chief economic adviser said today the administration does not view the present level of unemployment as something to be accepted indefinitely.

Dr. Arthur F. Burns, chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers, said many things have been done to reduce unemployment, other proposals are pending in Congress and still others are under consideration. The latest figures showed about 3,465,000 unemployed in April.

This is the first time that a top administration official has stated unequivocally that this figure is too high to live with.

There have been many accusations and expressed suspicions, mostly from labor union sources, that the Republicans philosophically accept unemployment at current and recent levels because business prefers it that way.

These accusations find credence for several reasons:

1. The labor leaders' lack of sympathy with much of the Eisenhower program and their estrangement from most of the people who are running it.
2. The absence of a direct attack on unemployment, such as a public works program.
3. The administration's avoidance of the expression "full employment" is a desirable social and economic objective, in contrast with the preachments on this theme by preceding administrations.

WASHINGTON, June 3 (AP)—Rep. Eleanor K. Sullivan (D-Mo.) told today the House today the coffee shortage is a "hoax" which is gouging U.S. consumers by $600,000,000 a year.

"Priors were bid up in anticipation of shortages which did not exist," she said. "Our government has sat with livan said."

LAW-STUDYING FAMILY COMPARES GRADES
W. L. Richardson Sr., Center, With Betty, W. L. Jr.

Dad, Son, Daughter-in-Law Taking Law Degree Together

By JIM PINSON

Graduation will be a family affair for the Richardsons Saturday night when the John Marshall Law School awards diplomas at the Atlanta Woman's Club.

Decked out in caps and gowns will be W. L. Richardson Sr., a railroad man for 37 years; his son, W. L. Jr., a credit manager, and his daughter-in-law, Elizabeth.

The trio of would-be barristers entered John Marshall together two years ago and competition among them for top grades has been furious, they say, with "no holds barred."

The winner, admit the father-in-law and husband Richardson, is pretty Elizabeth, who Saturday will receive the Delta Sigma Gamma award for scholastic achievement.

But the most enthusiastic of the three is the elder Richardson, who says he has quenched a life-long thirst for legal knowledge by becoming a classmate of his son and daughter-in-law.

"I just couldn't stand to see them start law courses without me so I decided to register, too," he explained. "I've enjoyed every minute of it."

CITY HALL

92,000 Eye Final School Bell

By HERMAN HANCOCK

School is "out" for 92,000 Atlanta students Friday, completing "the very best school year in Atlanta's history," according to Miss Ira Jarrell, city school superintendent.

Miss Jarrell said registration was the highest in history, that the 2,800 graduates were the most in history, and that teaching staffs and physical condition of the schools were the best, although many additional classrooms are needed.

Although a $5,000,000 bond issue for new school facilities is scheduled to be ordered for July 14 by the Board of Aldermen next Monday, Miss Jarrell said the fund is "only a stop-gap and cannot begin to meet our needs." The board has asked $13,000,908 to meet present needs. The program includes construction of 456 new classrooms and other improvements.

The 1954-55 year will open Sept. 3.

11 Swimming Pools Open Tomorrow

Atlanta's 11 municipal swimming pools are all set for their official opening at 2 p.m. Saturday, Parks Manager George Simons said Thursday.

Pools will be open week days from 8:30 a.m. until 10:30 p.m. and on Sundays from 2 until 10 p.m. and children under 12 will be admitted free on week-days until noon.

Some 250 impatient Atlanta boys and girls opened several of the pools "unofficially" Wednesday night and had to be chased out by the police.

June Is 'Dairy Month'

Mayor Hartsfield Thursday proclaimed the month of June as "Dairy Month" in Atlanta. The mayor signed the document in the presence of representatives of the Georgia Dairy Assn. City Ald. James E. Jackson, legal counsel for the organization, said special efforts will be made to dramatize the value of milk in the diet. Gov. Talmadge last week signed a similar proclamation.

Emory Nursing School Gets Fund

The Emory University School of Nursing has received a grant of $10,350 from the Commonwealth Fund, New York, to be used in setting up a graduate program in nursing. Miss Ada Fort, dean of the nursing school, announced Thursday.

The graduate program will be the first in the Southeast to be given in medical and surgical nursing and will offer a year-long course leading to the master of nursing degree. Miss Mary Margaret Williams has been named director of the new program.

4 Indicted In $4,500 Burglary

Four Atlanta men have been indicted on a burglary charge in a $4,500 safe-cracking at Prior Tire Co. on May 2.

They were listed as James O. Wooten, 710 Hobert St.; James D. Buckner, Rt. 2, Austell; Huie C. Teal, 1703 S. Pryor St., S.W., and Fred Harris, 502 Kennedy St., N.W.

Bonds for Wooten and Buckner, who have police records dating back 24 years, were set at $20,000. Teal's is $2,000 and Harris' is $8,000.

Police said two of the tire company's safes were robbed. One was blown open with nitroglycerin and one was cut with an acetylene torch, police said.

Bob Hope, who is accustomed to experiences depicted in this film, cavorting in the spacious surroundings of the Fox Theater, does not apply in Oatis' case, we are moves downtown to the Paramount this week where his latest screen force, "Casanova's Big Night," is now playing.

Ranging from tongue-in-cheek satire to slapstick, "Casanova" starts off rather slow but it explodes with one funny situation following another, concluding with the double ending—one as Paramount Pictures intended it, the other as Hope wanted the film concluded.

George Sanders Bob Hope

The farce is set in Italy during the 18th century. Much of the comedy stems from the fact that modern dialogue is used in this period setting. The dialogue, incidentally, is bright and fast, with big comedy lines coming so fast that the audience laughter smotherers many of the gags.

Joan Fontaine proves herself an adept comedienne in the role of Hope's dream-girl, while Basil Rathbone, Vincent Price, and a host of capable extras complement the dramatic department.

Reviewer's rating: Very good comedy. Family classification.

The magazine story by Paul and Pauline Gallico about an American newspaper man taken prisoner by the Reds in Czechoslovakia comes to the screen of the Rialto Theater this week billed as "Assignment-Paris."

"Assignment" is a tense cloak and dagger story adroitly played by the exceptional cast headed by George Sanders and Dana Andrews. Marta Toren and Audrey Totter lend pictorial and dramatic interest to the feminine leads.

Some degree of authenticity is provided by the very good camera work which brings into focus actual Parisian backgrounds.

Collision With a No-Hitter

For what it's worth: One of the patented lines of the released baseball player reads, "I never got a chance." But George Stock, the new Cracker right hander, has the best case on record against the management. The one time he was allowed to start for the Braves in 1951 he ran into a no-hitter thrown by Cliff Chambers of Pittsburgh, and his lifetime big league record stands, 0-1. His one defeat was that no-hitter. . . . Shouldn't heavyweight Bob Baker, have been booked for contributing to the delinquency of a minor after bludgeoning old Joe Baksi the other night? . . . And whatever became of Rex Layne?

Remember Joe Savoldi, the guy who was kicked out of Notre Dame back when poppa was a kid, then made his pile wrestling? There's a Junior Joe Savoldi, who huddles in the name of the

Bisher

Michigan State track team. . . Bill White, victim of a Sewanee rhubarb, finally landed at unsubsidized Howard College in Birmingham, where he was head coach 13 years ago. He was flirting with Tech's freshman job awhile last spring. . . . Most improved pitcher in the major leagues, verdict of Lou Boudreau, is the Red Sox' Willard Nixon, hero of Lindale.

"At least the Orioles aren't in last place like Pittsburgh," gurgled outfielder Cal Abrams as he expressed his rapture over trade to Baltimore. Last time I looked there was a threadbare half-game between rapture and last place. . . . While portions of the universe have gone daffy over the minus-four-minute mile, check this history of the 100-yard dash. Back in 1902, Arthur Duffey, later a Boston columnist, did the sprint in 9.8 seconds, and in the 32 years since only three-tenths of a second have been shaved off. . . . And whatever became of Perin Walker?

Playing a split season, the Fort McPherson baseball team would just about have ruined most any league. Bobby Dews' crew reached the halfway point this week with a 34-6 record. . . . Of course the pitching bellow has been Vinegar Bend Mizell, on loan from the St. Louis Cardinals, won seven, lost one and fanned 79. . . . The Baltimore Orioles still have their head high enough above the cellar door to keep a lusting eye on Carl Povich, their Fort Mac slugger who belted three homers the other day.

—Something New in Burglaries

Burglars broke into Joe Engel's laminated bat factory in Chattanooga last week. Joe's alert publicity office was ready the next day with an appropriate release. "This only shows," it said, "how anxious people are to hit with our bats. They'll steal for them." . . . Name of the week: Jughead Wrinkle, a stock car racer. . . . Of all the newest wrinkles in childhood distractions, those bubblehead gadgets are the most imbecilic.

Since Frank Torre has aroused the subject of magic first basemen, a couple of sterling defensive agents should be considered before awarding Frank the Faultless all-time championship. One is Babe Dahlgren, who toured with several major league teams, and the other is Eddie Shokes, a human elastic band who once enjoyed a short stretch with Cincinnati. . . . Why hasn't someone thought of a "new and enriched with something or other" Bourbon? . . . And whatever became of Correlation?

A couple of baseball leagues go on doing business under false pretenses. There isn't a Florida delegate in the Georgia-Florida League and the only thing international about the Florida International League is some players' old memories of trips to Havana. . . . If you're looking for a 17-year-old pitcher, you can get one out in Texas. Ancient Earl Caldwell, who could just as easily be 49, quit the Harlingen team and instantly announced he's interested in a new pitching career. . . . That wasn't Bob Zuppke, but Paul Brown's picture in this column last week, and if Zuppke should ever see it he'd turn purple. Their fondness for one another is slightly limited.

—A Match of Four-Letter Men

Georgia's only two four-letter athletes, 63-year-old Mort Hodgson Sr., and 22-year-old John Carson, got together for a nine-hole golf match the other day. Score: 33 apiece. . . . You'll have to go pretty high to get higher than a kite in Linville, N.C., this weekend. Up there they'll be flying them a mile high on top of Grandfather Mountain in a national contest for young sports. . . . They'll never quit talking about that mountain goat catch Duke Snider made against the Phillies the other day in Brooklyn. It was just like in Pete Reiser's day, except that The Dook forgot to fracture his skull.

Mail Call: "I want a chance to play baseball. I'm just out of high school and I'm a pretty fair outfielder and first baseman. I'm not interested in any fast money. I just want to play. If anybody will give me a job."—George Spence, Rte. 3, Carrollton. . . . "Ponce de Leon Park is poorly located for the majority of baseball fans. It requires bus transfers or parking problems to get there. Put it out in Hapeville or Buckhead and watch a lot of these 'lukewarm' fans grow hot."—Bert Cline, Atlanta. . . . To S. J. Smith, 3107 Tower-view Rd., N.E.—I'd imagine Mel Himes was shipped out and Bill George retained because the Crackers have money tied up in George, and he was a double A quality last season.

Birmingham gets its trial a little early this year. Last year the Yankees removed Gus Triandos from them in July. Now injury has removed Hal Grote, the new leader of the Baron mob. . . . All duffers will rejoice to know that an 85 once won the National Open. That was all Willie Anderson needed to beat Alex Smith in the 1901 playoff. Smith had a blistering 86. . . . Selah.

Charles Begins Title Drive 'Push'

MONTICELLO, N.Y., June 3 (AP)—Challenger Ezzard Charles said today that starting Saturday he will box 11 straight days in the final drive of his training for his title fight with heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano June 17. Charles boxed two rounds each today with Gene Jones and Al Smith, using a left jab and hook effectively against both. He will lay off tomorrow.

FAMILY AFFAIR—HOLLYWOOD, June 3—Bob Mathias and his pretty wife, Melba, will play themselves in the "Bob Mathias Story," in which the life story of the Olympic Decathlon champion will be portrayed. Filmtown experts say that it will be the first time in history that husband and wife played themselves on the screen.

Trucks and Johnson Outlast 15-Hit Assault and Win, 9-6

Chisox Trail By One Game

BOSTON, June 3 (AP)—Chicago's Virgil Trucks and Don Johnson survived a 15-hit Boston attack today, including home runs by Ted

Williams and Harry Agganis, for a 9-6 victory over the Red Sox.

The victory was Trucks' sixth against three losses, his second in succession over Boston, and put the Chisox just one game behind American League-leading Cleveland following the Indians' 2-1 loss to New York.

Trucks had pitched a one-hit shutout at Boston May 1 but the Red Sox tagged him hard today for 13 safeties. Johnson came in after 7 2/3 innings to finish.

In the home half of the ninth when, with two out, runners on second and third and Billy Goodman at bat, Chicago catcher Sherm Lollar was tossed out of the game for protesting a ball called by Umpire John Stevens. That made the count 3-2 but Goodman grounded harmlessly to Nellie Fox to end the game.

Hyde Extends Crax Latest Streak to 3

Whips Crackers On Six Blows

By JESSE OUTLAR

Constitution Sports Writer

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn.,

June 3—Chattanooga and Atlanta are clubs which specialize in streaks, and at the moment the Lookouts are hot and the Crackers are somewhat cool.

Thursday night, Dick Hyde, a 25-year-old rookie, calmed the Crackers on six scattered hits and the Lookouts cashed in their fifth straight victory, 2-1.

It was the third straight reversal for the Crackers, quite a reversal of form since Whitlow Wyatt's men swept four in a row recently in Atlanta.

At that time, the Crackers were in the midst of their 15-game victory binge, and the Lookouts were mired in an eight-game losing skid.

Dick Donovan and Hyde also had personal streaks at stake in Thursday's game. Donovan had won four in a row, Hyde had soaked up four straight losses after winning four.

The difference in this tight duel was a pair of eighth-inning singles. Don Grate struck the first one, moved to second on Dan Porter's sacrifice and buzzed home on Hank DiJohnson's solid hit to center.

Thus, Hyde improved his chart to 5-4, and Donovan became a loser for the first time in '54. The mound, and Vern Petty skied to right.

In the seventh, DiPrima lived on DiJohnson's boot, and was sacrificed to second. He expired there, as Solt popped out, and Donovan whiffed.

Donovan added seven strikeouts and now has an impressive total of 33 in 42 innings. He walked three, Hyde fanned four, walked only one.

CRACKER DIARY: Chattanooga hurlers have held the Crackers homerless in three games, only the second time this season they've gone that long without a homer. You have to flip the scorebook back to April 20 to find the last three-game drought. . . . Crackers' big three, Montag, Whisenant and Tanner, have a combined average of .188 in the three games here. They're six for 32, and Montag is in an 0-for-12 slump. . . . Whisenant insisted on playing Thursday despite a twisted ankle, which caused him considerable pain.

Speaking of averages, even coach Junior Wooten is under .400. His lone time at bat Wednesday night pulled his mark down to .289. . . . Don Grate was charged with only one official time at bat in five trips over a span in the last two games. He sacrificed twice, was hit by Donovan, got an infield hit and walked. At Honolulu in either 1957, 1958 or incidentally, Grate has 7 for 9 in 1959.

From the fourth through the seventh, the Lookouts collected only one hit off Donovan, but Grate and DiJohnson added two more in the ninth, and that was the difference. Donovan's scoring excursion, represented the only Cracker to reach third.

Twice the Crackers maneuvered the potential tying run to second. Solt's single and an infield out gave the Crackers a shot with one away in the fifth. But Solt was trapped off second when Billy Porter bounced to the fourth until Frank DiPrima singled with two gone in the ninth. The Crackers touched Hyde for only one hit—a single by Jim Solt in the fifth.

From the fourth through the seventh, the Lookouts collected only one hit off Donovan, but Grate and DiJohnson added two more in the ninth, and that was the difference. Donovan's scoring excursion, represented the only Cracker to reach third.

Valo Slugs Baltimore Into Cellar

Demaestri Slaps
Home Run for A's

PHILADELPHIA, June 3 (AP)—Elmer Valo scored two runs and batted in a third tonight as the Philadelphia Athletics whipped the Baltimore Orioles, 6-2, in a battle over last place in the American League. Joe Demaestri contributed a bases-empty homer to the winners' cause while Bob Young homered for Baltimore. The Orioles dropped into the cellar with the defeat.

Demaestri's round-tripper came with one out in the second. Young hit his homer as leadoff batter for Baltimore in the fifth. The knotted 1-1 count didn't last long. In their half of the fifth, the A's scored again as Valo tripled and Gus Zernial singled him in.

Don Larsen pitched the first seven innings for Baltimore and was charged with the loss.

Carson Signs Pact With Cleveland Club

Georgia's All-Round Star
Snubs Canadians for NFL

By BERT PRATHER

Johnny Carson, Georgia's All-American end of last season and a four sports letter winner at the Bulldog institution, has signed a contract to play professional football with the Cleveland Browns of the National Football League.

The six-foot-three pass-catching ace was drafted by the Browns following the 1952 season, but as he had another year of eligibility he stayed on and became famous as the battery mate of Georgia's sensational pass flinger Zeke Bratkowski.

Carson won three letters each in football and golf, one in basketball and one in baseball. He was a forward on the 1952-53 cage squad and an outfielder on the '52 Bulldog nine.

A natural golfer, Carson played No. 3 this year, but in 1951 he went all the way to the quarter-finals of the National Collegiate Tournament. In 1949 Long John gained a similar position in the National Public League before being eliminated.

Carson caught 45 passes for 633 yards and four touchdowns last fall. This tied him for the NCAA leadership with three others.

Carson was already a famous sports page figure before entering Georgia. At Roosevelt High here he was a four letterman and rated the greatest all-around prep athlete ever to come out of an Atlanta high school.

His signing came as a blow to several Canadian pro scouts. At least four teams of the Canadian pro loop were trying to persuade him to bypass the Browns.

At Cleveland, he will in all probabilities be used entirely as an offensive end.

Some of his friends had hoped that the Bulldog star would seek a business career where he could continue as an amateur golfer. He has always loved golf better than the other sports in which he excels and could have developed into a topflight amateur with a little more work and serious approach to the game.

Two Brilliant Fielding Plays
Squelch Indian Rally in Ninth

NEW YORK, June 3 (AP)—Joe Collins' eighth-inning home run and brilliant ninth-inning defensive play gave the New York Yankees a thrilling 2-1 victory over the Cleveland Indians today.

Collins' homer, his second of the base hit from Jim Hegan with a season, broke up a 1-1 pitching duel between Cleveland's Bob Lemon and New York's Ed Lopat. Dave Pope, running for Regalado, but it took some sensational fielding by left fielder Noren and shortstop Phil Rizzuto in the ninth to stop the Indians.

After Rudy Regalado had opened the Tribe's ninth, with a single, George Strickland followed with a liner to left field but Noren, charging in, made a spectacular tumbling catch for his second great play of the game. In the seventh, he had raced far back to deep left to take away an extra

NEW YORK, June 3 (AP)—Jack Molinas, former Columbia University basketball player, won the right today to go to court to try to prove his right for reinstatement in the National Basketball Assn.

Supreme Court Justice Benjamin Rabin made the ruling and set June 14 as the day for Molinas to present his case to the special term of the state Supreme Court in the Bronx.

Molinas, an $8,500-a-year rookie for the Fort Wayne Pistons, was suspended last January by Maurice Podoloff, NBA president, for betting on his own team.

A Grand Jury dismissed the case on the grounds it could find no evidence of a crime.

However, the NBA refused to lift the suspension.

Hogan Still Not Well, Won't Play Saturday

Bantam's Round on June 12 Will Go as Official Score

By WILL GRIMSLEY

NEW YORK, June 3 (AP)—A tired and out-of-shape Ben Hogan said today, "I don't see how I possibly can win the Open."

"I'm in poor physical condition. I haven't had a chance to work on my game at all."

Ben Hogan

"I don't see how it would be possible for me to get myself in physical shape and my game sharp enough in the next two weeks to win the tournament."

The National Open golf championship, won by Hogan four of the last six years, begins today—Thursday, June 17—at the neighboring Baltusrol Golf Club in Springfield, N.J.

"I plan to play," Hogan said. "But as for my chances—I can't really feel serious about them."

The Texas fairway master came East to play Baltusrol Saturday as part of Life magazine's National Golf Day, on which the nation's golfers match scores with the National Open champion, and to practice for the approaching tournament.

Later, the Texas fairway master moved across the Hudson River to New Jersey where he took a look at the Baltusrol Course and announced he would not be able to play in National Golf Day Saturday.

"I'm too weak to do justice to the event," he said.

Instead, the nation's golfers will match their scores against an official round he will play on June 12.

Saturday still stands as the day Hogan's opponents shoot their rounds.

He played a practice round on Baltusrol, skipping the 15th and 16th holes and when asked his opinion of the course said:

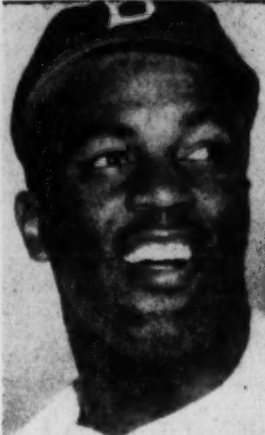

"I am not smart enough to pass judgment on a golf course after having seen it only once."

He hadn't seen Baltusrol since it was "toughened up" for the Open.

Hogan won his first National Open in 1948. He missed the 1949 event while recuperating from a near fatal automobile accident and repeated in 1950, 1951 and 1953. Julius Boros broke his chain in 1952.

Bobby Jones has also held Open title four times, as has Willie Anderson. Jones wrapped up four between 1923 and his grand slam year of 1930.

JACKIE ROBINSON
His Aim Was Poor

DODGER ACE APOLOGIZES, BUT—

Robinson May Face Lawsuit in Bat Episode

MILWAUKEE, June 4 (AP)—Jackie Robinson of the Brooklyn Dodgers was notified today that an attorney had been retained by a couple who claimed they were hit Wednesday night by a bat Robinson tossed after being thumped out of the game with the Braves.

The couple said they were undecided about a possible damage suit.

Mrs. Peter Wolinsky said the bat struck her above the left eye and hit her husband on the forehead. They were seated in a box behind the Brooklyn dugout.

Mrs. Wolinsky said today she had not consulted a physician as yet, nor had her husband, who is 29.

"I was stunned and shocked. I didn't know what hit me," Mrs. Wolinsky said. She said Robinson called her to apologize this morning after he was notified the Wolinskys had retained Atty. James Stern, a friend.

"He was very nice," Mrs. Wolinsky said. She said Robinson told her it was unintentional and that she said she realized that.

"The bat probably slipped," she told a reporter.

The incident developed out of a ruckus in last night's rainy game which the Dodgers won, 7-5. In the fourth inning Umpire Lee Ballanfant emptied the Brooklyn bench in a dispute over a called ball on Brave Johnny Logan. When Robinson came up to bat in the fifth he said something to Ballanfant and was ejected. Walking over to the dugout, Robinson tossed his bat ahead of him. It bounced off the concrete roof of the dugout and into the box seats.

"The bat slipped from my hand when I tossed it," Robinson said. "I tossed it underhand toward the dugout but I held on to it too long."

Robinson immediately went over to the dugout and apologized to the fans.

Usher Harry Yelvington said the bat hit him on the head and that he still had a headache this morning.

The bat? Mrs. Wolinsky has that as a souvenir.

Warren C. Giles, president of the National League, was not available immediately for comment. He was in Moline, Ill., today because of the death of a relative.

the totally new tire... U.S. Royal 8

Today's safe driving demands a totally new kind of tire. Modern traffic conditions, together with advances like automatic transmissions, stepped-up horsepower, increased performance and "Continental" styling all put totally new demands on tires. What you see pictured here is the first tire specifically engineered and designed to meet those demands. The development of this great new tire, the U. S. Royal 8, took an entirely fresh approach—fresh research—fresh ideas and methods. It took the skill and experience of more than 200 of the world's top tire technicians. More thoroughly tested than any new tire in history, the U. S. Royal 8 sets totally new standards of safety, of long mileage, of riding ease and of economy. It is ready for you now—and, wonder of wonders, it's yours at no premium in price!

Notice that the widest rib of this tire's tread is in the center—to protect the vulnerable area where greatest wear takes place. And look how much flatter the whole tread is, how much more rubber it puts to the highway. This pays off in slower, more even wear all across the tread. What's the result? By actual test, you get up to 250 extra miles for every 1,000 miles you drive!

You don't have to "baby" the U. S. Royal 8. This tire is built far tougher and more durable to withstand extra pounding and abuse. Its new carcass strength gives you far greater resistance to impacts, ruptures and blowouts. And its compact tread design provides greater puncture protection right where it's needed most!

When you hit a curve, on ordinary tires, you get a frightening squeal. When you travel a modern highway you get a monotonous hum. But the exclusive tread pattern of the U. S. Royal 8 smoothes the squeal—hushes the hum! You ride in whisper silence—relaxed—with a new feeling of confidence, safety, enjoyment!

The smooth "pillow" contour and slim white sidewalls of the U. S. Royal 8 give any car—new or old—a longer and lower look. Instead of old-fashioned shoulder buttresses, this tire is enhanced by graceful star-points that complement the wheel design. Rolling along or standing still—the U. S. Royal 8 is the handsomest tire ever!

On top of all its performance features, the U. S. Royal 8 gives you true economy! First, because it costs no more to buy. Second, because it wears so slowly and lasts so long. And after long, faithful service has finally worn that tough, deep tread smooth, you can recap the U. S. Royal 8 with safety for many more thousands of miles!

Cohn Won't Call Army Complaint False

Denies Voice On Phone Vicious

sible perjury prosecution," Cohn said.

Other highlights:
1-The first of the Army-monitored telephone calls bearing on the Army's row with Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) were read into the record by Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill). They dealt with talks Dirksen had with Stevens last February. In one, Stevens warned that the Army officers corps was being "crucified" by McCarthy.
2-Subcommittee Democrats suggested that Secretary of Defense Wilson be asked to explain why the Pentagon had not yet picked up McCarthy's list of 130 persons accused as Communists, who McCarthy says work in defense plants. After several calls to the Pentagon, McCarthy said defense officials wanted the names. He said a misunderstanding caused the delay. McCarthy offered the names last night.

DEFENSE JOB

3-Sen. Symington (D-Mo) read a defense department memo asserting the armed forces had canceled clearances for the alleged Reds and thus get them out of defense work. Cohn and McCarthy had claimed the military services were powerless to act.

4-Stevens said in one of the monitored Dirksen-Stevens calls that McCarthy was "mad" because he had protested to other members of McCarthy's subcommittee about McCarthy's "abuse" of Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker, commandant of Camp Kilmer, New Jersey.

5-The subcommittee refused a request by Assistant Secretary of Defense H. Struve Hensel that it publish the record of a secret subcommittee meeting of May 17. Hensel said the record would show that McCarthy indicated he had no support for original charges he made against him. Hensel has been dismissed as a principal in the hearings.

McCarthy originally accused Hensel of masterminding the Army's case against him to block investigation of the assistant defense secretary's financial interests. McCarthy said today that he is investigating European contracts awarded by Hensel on "which profits run very high."

Sen. Jackson obtained from Cohn a number of flat denials to a series of Army charges. But the youthful-looking McCarthy counsel balked at putting a flat "true or false" label on Army counsel John G. Adams' sworn testimony that Cohn once threatened to "wreck the Army."

Cohn also declined to give a flat true or false to the Army's sworn testimony that he once said Stevens would be "through" as Army secretary if Pvt. G. David Schine, former McCarthy aide, was sent overseas.

Cohn said the word "false" implies wilful or intentional misstatement of fact. He suggested, "Some of those on the other side were a little careless."

Jackson countered that the implication of Cohn's reply was that the Army testimony was false.

MIGHT AGREE

"That might be your conclusion, sir," Cohn replied, "and I might agree with you."

Sen. Symington questioned Cohn about the FBI secrets which McCarthy said he received from an Army intelligence officer. Atty. Gen. Brownell ruled it would not be in the public interest to make the contents public.

The incident was one of a series which culminated in President Eisenhower's order against disclosing confidential government data.

Symington asked Cohn if it would be proper for someone in the FBI to release a document to the newspapers if the person decided that FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover was not "acting vigorously enough."

"Sir," Cohn replied, "the hypothesis your suggest is not possible."

"That is not the answer and you know it," Symington snapped.

McCarthy's 'Risks' List Demanded

The defense department had not acted more quickly to get hold of McCarthy's list.

The Democrats Wednesday forced through a motion recommending that McCarthy make the list available.

McCarthy and Cohn contended the department already had the information—and was powerless to act anyway. But Sen. Symington (D-Mo) today read at the hearings a defense department memo asserting the armed forces can cancel clearances for the alleged Reds and thus get them out of defense work.

Seaton told reporters McCarthy had said the FBI has all the names. If it does, he said, "then we've got them," because the department and the FBI work closely. Asked what the next move would be, Seaton said, "I would assume it's Sen. McCarthy's."

In his letter Seaton said the defense department has power only to suspend security clearances of individuals working on secret contracts. He said the department cannot under present law cause anyone to be fired. Concerning charges that the de-

The Geneva Conference was plainly included in Western tactics as the council met at 10:37 a.m. for its first discussion of the eight-year-old war in Indochina. The British and the French would have preferred that the Thai request had been held back until it was clear whether or not there was to be an agreement on Indochina at Geneva.

But the United States and Thailand were anxious to get the case on the books and an informal understanding was reached among Western delegations. One observer here called it a "hurry up and wait" understanding. The case would be put on the agenda, quickly, and then the council would move slowly enough to permit continued negotiations at Geneva.

In line with that understanding, the council today heard only one speech on the part of the matter—Sarasins' speech. Then Dr. Charles Malik of Lebanon moved adjournment and it was approved by 10 affirmative votes. Tsarapkin took no part in that vote. The entire meeting took only one hour. Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., U.S. delegate, and council president this month, set no date for the next meeting but it was reported there might be one toward the end of next week.

partment was slow to pick up the names, Seaton said he tried unsuccessfully last night and early today to reach McCarthy to arrange for delivery of the list.

McCarthy's secretary told him by telephone last night that the senator suggested a meeting for noon today, Seaton said. He could not attend because of an official engagement, Seaton said.

"But I replied that the Department of Defense was indeed interested in receiving the names and I suggested the names be sent to the Department of Defense forthwith in accordance with the investigating committee's resolution," Seaton said.

This was not done, Seaton said he tried to call McCarthy again this morning but was informed the senator was in a closed committee session.

sion. Dr. Robert Naylor of Texas is chairman of the commission. The commission had previously recommended a transfer of the center site to Fort Worth-Dallas.

The commission will report to the convention's executive committee, some months later, but final instructions must come from the convention itself, according to Thursday's action.

Dr. James L. Sullivan, Nashville, Tenn., executive secretary-treasurer of the Baptist Sunday School Board of the convention, announced a "complete change in organization of the board involving an administrative staff and divisional realignment."

This change brings Dr. W. L. House, Fort Worth, Texas, to the head of the board's department of education along with other personnel shifts.

The home mission board's presentation Thursday night included an address by Dr. Courts Redford, executive secretary of the board, which has headquarters in Atlanta.

He described a new "four-year Conquest for Christ" program that will begin in 1955 with a nationwide revival campaign.

G. Frank Garrison, Atlanta, presided. The board's department of Negro work was described by S. E. Grinstead, BSU secretary, Atlanta.

Georgians elected as Southern Baptist Seminary (Louisville, Ky.) trustees are the Rev. Merrill Meadows, pastor of Atlanta's Orchard Knob Baptist Church, and the Rev. Max O'Neal, pastor of

have already sent the money in." Bradley said that because of a lack of funds, camp shows have been cut out in Europe and Africa and have been seriously curtailed in the Pacific and Korea.

"About 80 to 85 per cent of the proceeds of the UDF goes for USO and USO Camp Shows," Bradley said. "We hope to continue them again after this year's drive."

The tall, graying and soft-spoken West Pointer will address the annual conference of the Southern Region of the United Defense Fund, Inc., Friday at a luncheon. He succeeded Gen. James Doolittle as national campaign chairman.

Included in the fund are the USO, USO Camp Shows, National Social Hygiene Assn., the United Defense Fund Committee, which sponsors activities for civilians engaged in defense work, and the United States Committee, which establishes clubs for seamen all over the world.

The general is chairman of the board of the Bulova Research Laboratories in New York. The labs are actively engaged in experiments on new types of fuses and firing mechanisms for guided missiles and for shells.

46,000 Germans Killed in Indochina

BOON, Germany, June 3 (AP)—The youth organization of the West German Socialist party said today 46,000 Germans serving in the French Foreign Legion have died in Indochina since 1945.

The organization said 232,500 Germans have joined the Legion since the war and about 100,000 still are on its rolls.

Qualifying Candidates Slack Off

By M. L. ST. JOHN

After the first flurry of qualifications on opening day, the line of candidates paying their entry fees to the State Democratic Party secretary has slowed to a dribble. Only an occasional candidate qualifies with the secretary these days.

Rep. Phil Campbell, 37-year-old Oconee County dairy farmer and chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, is the only candidate to qualify for commissioner of agriculture. This post is being vacated this year by Tom Linder, commissioner for many years. Campbell, an independent legislator, holds the agricultural degree from the College of Agriculture. He is the son of the late J. Phil Campbell, organizer and first director of the Agricultural Extension Service in Georgia.

ONLY GREER

Rep. John Greer of Lanier County, a leading member of the House of Representatives since 1945, is the only candidate to qualify thus far for the post of lieutenant governor. This job is being vacated by Marvin Griffin, who has held the office since 1948.

Gov. Talmadge's announcement of policy requiring appointive state officials and employees to resign, or take an unpaid leave of absence, when they qualify for political office has slowed down the qualifications. Some state officials had announced for lieutenant governor and commissioner of agriculture, but they probably will delay qualifying until nearer the deadline.

Candidates have another month—until July 3—to pay their entry fees.

On the state-wide level, only one race has developed in the first week of qualifying, aside from the gubernatorial free-for-all. Judge H. E. Nichols of Rome and Hoyt Wheelchel of Moultrie are opposing each other for a post on the Court of Appeals.

MOBLEY APPOINTMENT

In the governor's race, Rep. Charlie Gowen, Speaker Fred Hand, Ben Garland, Linder and Griffin have qualified. Former Acting Gov. M. E. Thompson has announced he will pay his entry fee June 15.

Gov. Talmadge's appointment of Carlton Mobley to the State Supreme Court this week drew commendation from various political factions. The appointment is for the remainder of this year. Whether the new justice will have opposition in his race for the new full term beginning next year remains to be seen.

Judge Joe Quillian of the Court of Appeals says that the Ninth District people feel that history will record Justice J. H. Sutton as one of Georgia's all-time great judges. Sutton retired this week, after 27½ years on the Superior Court, the Court of Appeals and more recently the Supreme Court. He and Quillian are both from the Ninth District.

Kidnaping, Threat Told At Hill Trial

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., June 3 (AP)—George Herschel Myers of Lost Creek, Tenn., testified today that James Francis (Robin Hood) Hill kidnaped him in 1952, drove to Atlanta, Ga., and upon releasing him, said, "If you turn me in inside of eight hours, I'll come back and kill you."

Myers was the second witness as the government opened its prosecution of the 33-year-old Hill in U.S. District Court on charges of kidnaping and auto theft.

Hill pleaded innocent "by reason of insanity" at his formal arraignment May 6.

Two companions of Hill, Virgil E. LeMay, 17, of Nashville, and Charles E. Hopkins, 22, of Jacksonville, Fla., were convicted of similar charges and imprisoned.

The Myers kidnaping was one of 20 police attributed to the trio in Georgia and Tennessee in October, 1952. Hill later was accused of abducting eight others in Florida before he was captured at a roadblock near the Florida-Georgia line Oct. 31.

Herbert Lee Johnson of Van Buren County was the first witness as the trial opened. He testified that he and Myers were on a hunting trip when Hill drove into their camp site and held them at gunpoint. Later, Johnson said, Hill shot "air holes" in the trunk of the car, made him get in and locked the trunk. Johnson was released several hours later by other hunters.

Junior Club To Install Mrs. Hudson

New members will share honors with new officers when Mrs. Frank P. Hudson is installed as president of the Junior Atlanta Women's Club at a luncheon at 12 noon Saturday at the Atlanta Women's Club. Mrs. Hudson succeeds Mrs. H. D. Ayra.

Other new officers include Mrs. Philip S. Gravelly, Mrs. Joe Adamson and Mrs. H. F. Hunt, vice presidents; Mrs. Virginia Byars, recording secretary; Mrs. N. D. Ward, corresponding secretary and Mrs. R. L. Smith, treasurer.

Mrs. Mamie K. Taylor, vice president of the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs, will install the new slate. Mrs. Harold Willingham of Marietta, new director of the Junior division of the Georgia Federation, will also appear on the program. Program chairman is Miss Lorraine Inman.

Miss Hopkins Is Bride of Dr. Downs

With the bridegroom's father, the Rev. P. E. Downs Sr., of Salem, N.C., officiating, Miss Joan Hopkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Ralph Hopkins, became the bride of Dr. Posey E. Downs Jr., Thursday evening at the chapel of the Second-Ponce de Leon Baptist Church.

Mr. Hopkins gave his daughter in marriage, and after the ceremony he and Mrs. Hopkins entertained at a reception in the church rectory.

Miss Ruth Anne Taylor of McCaysville was the bride's maid of honor, and her bridesmaids were Misses Doris Morton, Virginia Nester and Mary Newsum of Atlanta. Small Toni Hightower of Miami served as flower girl.

Best man was Earl Woodruff of Raleigh, N.C., and other gentlemen in the wedding were Stanley Hopkins, Dr. Bill Galloway and Dr. Ted Mosley.

After a honeymoon at Florida coast resorts, the bridal couple will reside on Parkway Drive. Dr. Downs is serving his residency at Georgia Baptist Hospital where his bride is a surgeon's assistant.

Restore Shoes' Tread If 'Handed-Down'

The readers write:

Question—Is it all right to hand down shoes from one child to another?

Answer—It is all right if the recipients of the hand-downs otherwise would have to go barefooted.

A handed down shoe is as uncomfortable for a child as for an adult. If shoes must be handed down, they should be resoled to restore the original tread. A child's feet are extremely malleable and can be comforted for life by ill fitting shoes in early childhood.

Q—I am a mother-in-law, and my son has suggested that I visit them and run the house when their first baby comes this summer. My daughter-in-law has not asked me.

She said she has someone coming in, and I hesitate to follow thru on my son's suggestion. My going to them would, of course, be a saving, yet I feel a mother-in-law is in a different position from the mother of the new mother. What is your suggestion?

A—Follow your instinctive hesitancy, and let your daughter-in-law have the deciding voice. Kind and sincere as your motives, and your son's, are, a trying time could ensue for the entire household if the new mother herself has other plans or desires.

HANDLING SCISSORS

Q—When should I let my little girl handle scissors and how far can she go with them? I would also like to know when she can go downstairs by herself. She is 22 months old.

A—A child can handle small scissors with blunt points at 3. (He can handle them earlier, but should not.) Children shouldn't have pointed scissors until they are 5 and starting to kindergarten.

As for stairs, experts on child development say a child should be denied them until he can walk firmly and with stability and knows how to grasp the hand railing with which every stairway should be protected.

Your little girl can climb the stairs whenever she is ready, but you should be near at hand in case she turns and falls.

Q—How early can a child's I.Q. be tested?

A—Ordinary I.Q. tests are thought to reveal little under the age of 5, but skilled observers can make a successful study of mental development in a child if he is 4 months old.

The Children's Home Society of New Jersey has made analyses of babies at 2 months. This facilitates the earlier placing of babies in homes for adoption.

Intelligence tests as such are not all-important. Many a child fails to do well on them out of nervousness, tension, fear, or merely the confusion of the whole thing.

THUMB SUCKING

Q—Can thumb sucking be ignored indefinitely?

A—Not safely. Constant thumb sucking after the age of 4 may be the way a troubled child expresses his need for comfort of some sort. Parents should try to find out what the child's trouble is.

As for thumb sucking's effect on the child's teeth, only forceful sucking of prolonged duration moves teeth out of line. Sucking has little effect on the first set of teeth. They may be displaced because of sucking, but this condition will correct itself when the sucking is stopped.

If you worry about your child's thumb vs. his teeth, let your dentist or orthodontist decide whether the thumb sucking is having any effect.

The child may have a poor bite, but thumb sucking may not necessarily be the cause. It may be hereditary. The studies of Dr. J. H. Sillman of New York City indicate that although thumb sucking may make a poor bite worse, it will not make a good bite poor.

Miss Phelps Shooting for 'Real Thing'

By YOLANDE GWIN

Who are the best golfing teammates, men or women?

"The men are more spirited, they play harder and there is more competition, and that's what I like," said Janice Phelps, Atlanta's first girl to make a boys' golf team.

And among other things, last week she captured the women's city title and holds the junior championship which she won three times, and was named the Junior of the Year in Golf.

But Miss Phelps expects to meet some keen competition from the women next week when she plays in the Georgia Women's Assn. Silver Anniversary tournament in Griffin.

SECOND TOURNAMENT

"This will be my second state tournament," she said Thursday. "I'm keeping my fingers crossed. I just got experience in the first one but this one, well, I'm shooting for the real thing. I understand the Griffin course is very tough."

The high school girl made the boys' team at Roosevelt High School and played with them to win the 3-AA tournament and later when they placed fourth in the state tournament.

Up until now — on the eve of the Griffin tournament — the young golfer has staked her luck on a pair of brown and white golf shoes and as she says a "moment of silent prayer before each match."

"The shoes wore out during the city match last week," she said. "So I have a new pair. They are just like my old ones, except they are black and white. No reason for the color change, though."

She will be playing at the Griffin tournament to be held June 7-12, under the colors of the Capital City Club of Atlanta.

LEAVING SATURDAY

"I'm going down Saturday," she said between her classes at the Roosevelt High School. "To get in a few practice rounds at the Griffin Golf Club course. I've never played there."

Miss Phelps who began playing golf only four years ago, has been judged by experts as well as her golfing associates as being calm, steady-nerved and level-headed under the gruelling competition with more experienced and mature players.

Brown-Eyed 'Baby' To Star at Highland

By JEAN ROONEY

A sandy-haired young thing with soft brown eyes will probably be the star of the summer season at the Atlanta YWCA's Camp Highland.

She is a baby pony, the 8-weeks-old daughter of "Sugar," the camp's favorite Shetland.

Campers at Highland during the forthcoming 39th annual session will choose a name for their new pet. They will also help tame her for her future role as a gentle riding horse, camp director Bernice Liles reports.

Another new addition to the comfortable, shady camp near Smyrna, is a new cement block cabin. It will house a dozen or so young girls, ranging in age from 7 to 17 years.

Named "Weeona" for a Cherokee Indian maiden, the new cottage will be a fresh addition to the settlement of rustic, log cabins, 12 miles from Atlanta, according to Mrs. Liles.

Playing with the new Shetland will be one of a variety of activities offered at the Y camp. Tennis, swimming, badminton, archery, tumbling and team games are on the sports curriculum.

In supervised interest groups, campers will develop skills in camp crafts, singing, group games, folk dancing and nature lore, according to Mrs. Owen Poole, chairman of the Y camp committee.

Dramatics and stunt nights will be planned by the girls for "self expression" and fun, Mrs. Poole explains.

And the youngsters will take home concrete results of their camping experience in the form of handcraft made by themselves from wood, metal and leather.

A spring-fed pool and Nickajack Creek are on the camping site for cooling off periods in the daytime. But blankets will be needed at night, according to the official.

Sessions will run in 12-day periods beginning June 14, June 28, July 12 and July 26. Girls can attend one 12-day session or all four and should register in advance at the Atlanta YWCA.

Celestine Sibley 2-Way Stretch For Columns

So now they're putting rubber girdles on white columns! The new judicial and labor building which the state is putting up at the corner of Washington and Mitchell streets is a mighty handsome edifice, running largely to classic lines and lots of marble. It has, no doubt, posed many a problem for many people.

Ollie Reeves, mentioned in this space not so long ago as winner of the Writers Club's annual citation for his poetry, really makes a living working with marble, worrying about rhymes when he is not worrying about marble. If you thing the quality of his verse has fallen off lately—a likely notion!—you can blame it on the nightmares he has been having over eight marble columns.

This is the situation: Architect Thomas Bradbury's plans for the new building call for eight elegant bead and flute columns of St. Genevieve marble, which is a beautiful cream and golden buff patterned marble out of the heart of Missouri by way of the Georgia Marble Co. at Tate. The columns, towering 19 feet tall and weighing about four tons each, are actually load-bearing columns which hold up the rotunda of the building, and for this reason had to be "set," as the marble men say, before the mezzanine or second floor of the building went up over them.

"There they stood right out in the weather—$30,000 worth of marble columns," moaned our poet marbleman, Mr. Reeves. "Some marble it wouldn't matter, but these columns are polished—as fine marble columns as you ever saw. And nothing above them to shelter them or to keep them upright!"

Ollie thinks now they may have stood up all right on their own two-foot-in-diameter fluted shafts, but when he heard the wind blowing at night or the rain pelting on his roof he had nightmares in which the Coliseum of ancient Rome tottered about drunkenly.

"I knew if one of 'em fell over," Ollie said, "it would crash through the floor slab and the rest would follow."

So one bright morning this week Ollie had his inspiration. He put girdles—or rather old-fashioned corsets—on the columns!

They are corsets because they have steel stays which hold the columns upright. Around the stays he had his workmen apply bisbit dough consistency of plaster of Paris, designed to protect the beautiful finish from the weather and accidental drubbing at the hands of the builders.

"I knew when we wet the plaster it would fall off," Ollie explained, "and that presented another problem. If the rain wet it, the same thing would happen."

So to protect the plaster from the rain Ollie added a coating of rubber sealing very much like your two-way stretch. It's something new in white column garb and Ollie says it's working so well he may use it again and again.

You're welcome to the idea if you've got any white marble rotundas under construction.

As a matter of fact Ollie says marble's popularity runs in cycles. When he started in the business more than 40 years ago old-timers urged him to get out, marble was going out of style. But it never has really. In depression years it suffered a slump. In experimental periods it has had competition from synthetic materials but year in and year out marble continues to hold its own as the really rich and durable material for any public building where dignity is desired.

MISS GRACE MITCHELL

Miss Mitchell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Mitchell of Calvary, will wed Donald Stinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. A WEEKLY ADVERTISING COLUMN OF THINGS NEW AND INTERESTING
New York, June 3—Word gets around . . . but in case you haven't heard, let me tell you why thousands of homemakers always serve PREAM with coffee these days. It's because PREAM is oh-so convenient to use . . . and makes coffee taste so-o-o rich and delicious! And I'm sure you'll think so, too . . . for this 100% dairy product in powdered form is made entirely from fresh, sweet cream and other milk products. But PREAM never sours or "turns" . . . it stays fresh without refrigeration! And your own taste will tell you wonderful things it does to coffee . . . so get PREAM today and try it. Then you'll agree . . . the best way to "cream" it is to PREAM it!

MEN LOVE CHARCOAL BROILED MEATS. . . . so why not make it a weekend specialty. You don't need charcoal, you know . . . for you can "charcoal" broil right in your kitchen range with KITCHEN BOUQUET! That's right . . . you just brush your steaks, chops or hamburgers with KITCHEN BOUQUET and "pop" into the oven. But what a delicious difference it makes . . . with a crisp, crusty "charcoal" crust outside and all the savory meat juices sealed in. I like the way KITCHEN BOUQUET reduces meat shrinkage, too . . . so you get more for your money! You'll also find that KITCHEN BOUQUET makes any gravy taste better . . . see the directions in the package.

HERE'S A DESSERT FIT FOR A KING (especially yours!) . . . an entirely new kind of pie made with "JUNKET" QUICK FUDGE & FROSTING MIX! And it's the easiest made filling you ever tried . . . for:

Just put one package Chocolate "JUNKET" QUICK FUDGE & FROSTING MIX into a bowl, add 3 large eggs, 1/2 cup water and 1/4 cup melted butter. Beat until thoroughly blended, stir in 3/4 cup coarsely chopped pecans. Pour into unbaked 9" crust; bake at 375°F. for 40 min. until filling is set.

Serve with whipped cream . . . what a treat! . . . like a luscious soufflé . . . light and moist, rich and fudge-y! This "magic" package makes perfect fudge-candy and fudge frosting in only 4 minutes, too . . . in Chocolate, Penuche, Coconut.

SUNDAY NIGHT SUPPER used to be the dulllest meal of the week . . . but now it's one of the best. That's because I serve waffles . . . made to the queen's taste with DUFF'S Waffle Mix. And they practically make themselves . . . for DUFF'S has measured and mixed all the ingredients for you. You just add water, blend and spoon onto the waffle iron . . . they come out light and delicious, crisp and golden-browned every time. You simply can't miss! . . . perfect results are guaranteed or your money back! DUFF'S Waffle Mix is really first and finest . . . so think first of DUFF'S and serve the finest waffles in the world for breakfast and lunch as well as Sunday supper.

FEAST FROM FROZEN DESSERTS these sultry summer days . . . and make them the easy, economical way with "JUNKET" BRAND FREEZING MIX! That's what I do . . . for all you need is fresh or evaporated milk and "JUNKET" FREEZING MIX . . . simple directions on the package. "JUNKET" FREEZING MIX makes real ice cream, too . . . rich and velvety smooth . . . with old-fashioned hand-freezer goodness . . . but without the work! You just whip "JUNKET" FREEZING MIX with milk and cream . . . your refrigerator does the rest. So get all 4 luscious flavors (Vanilla, Strawberry, Chocolate and new Black Raspberry!), today . . . and delight your family tonight!

WashableLeather Is Almost Here

CINCINNATI (AP)—Gaily colored leathers which "can be tossed into the washing machine and even dried in an oven if you're in a hurry are being developed at a University of Cincinnati laboratory. Key to the process is a chemical named skelt, says Dr. Fred O'Flaherty, director of the U.C. laboratory, where tanning and leather industries have centered their research.

Within six months, gloves and other wearing apparel from the leather may be on the market, he says.

"We have developed leather which you can put into a washing machine for 30 minutes and then dry on a line, radiator, or even in an oven," Dr. O'Flaherty says.

In addition to its washing and drying features, the new leather is said to be highly resistant to perspiration.

Your Stars Today

ARIES (March 21-April 19). Watch the other fellow and be sure you don't make any mistakes yourself. Changing circumstances call for alert action.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20). Don't worry if you are not exactly on the ball today.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21). Don't let your recent optimistic outlook blind you to doubtful schemes. Hold off on speculations. Play down pleasures or indulgence.

CANCER (June 22-July 22). You could get emotionally involved and end up very mixed up. Don't talk too much or run around in circles. Keep clear.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22). Correspondence or transportation not favored to go smoothly today so put them off if possible, or double check all details involved.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). Count your change. Don't be absconded about money. Friends can be a bit erratic and changeable so keep relationships smooth.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22). Day dreaming could make you vague and not alert to the other fellow, who could take advantage of your lack of concentration.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21). Not exactly a day to ride high so keep behind the scenes and don't expect too much from yourself or anyone else. Be quiet.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). Hold spending. Refuse to be confused by doubtful friends or your own lack of clear direction in your hopes. Slow up pace.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). Vagueness can result in little mishaps in the home or in career matters. Avoid temperamental restlessness or impulsive action.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). You could get off on the wrong foot physically or mentally. Don't give way to tendency to change schedule all around.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20). Caution needed in handling investments or income. Don't make impulsive changes. Stick to tried methods. Overestimation is foolish.

Berle's Devotion to Mother Legendary in Theater

NEW YORK, June 3.—Because of the close relationship of Milton Berle and his mother, a tribute to both of them, the wags of show business inevitably constructed jokes about them. The jokes were never acid or bitter. Always in this amusing vein:

"Sandra is so mad at Milton that when he sat behind a pole for five shows."

His mother, Sandra, in the early days of Berle's climb to stardom, was his most audible audience. She served as a one-woman clique, her laugh finally becoming so well known to show people that Berle incorporated it as part of the "business" in his act. "Move over to the other side of the theater, mom," Berle would call out from the stage. "They're not laughing."

The devotion of the son to his mother was one of the very nice episodes of show business. And Milton's concern for his brothers and sister was on the same loyal and generous plane. Brash on the outside, Berle was a complete sentimentalist when it came to his family.

They say that the loneliest place in the world is a prize ring, when the seconds of a fighter leave, just before the bell sounds. Well, an equally lonesome place is the stage, when a performer walks on to entertain an audience.

Because of the lonely aspects of the business of show business, performers who distrust paid yes-men, turn more and more to their own families.

The mothers of Helen Hayes, Ginger Rogers, Clifton Webb, Eleanor Powell, the Gabor sisters, young Margaret O'Brien, Ethel Merman, Dolores Hope, Dolores Gray, Margaret and Barbara Whiting; Elsie Janis, Liberace, Peter Lind Hayes and Roberta Peters are legends of the theater.

Show business, therefore, readily can appreciate the loss which Milton Berle has suffered. In the death of his mother, Sandra, yet he has the wonderful consolation of knowing that his success brought great pride to her, while his devotion was the nicest gem in her hair-do.

Stocks Edge Up Under Rail Rally

Regain Wednesday Loss; Volume at 3-Week Low

By RADER WINGET

NEW YORK, June 3 (AP)—The stock market made progress reluctantly today and largely with the aid of a final spur supplied by the railroads.

Trading started lower. Within a short time, however, prices began to improve. They worked their way upward slowly until the final hour. Then the railroads staged a rally that brought them up smartly out of the depression in which they had been caught all day.

However, many other stocks lost a good part of their gains while the rails rallied.

AIRCRAFTS MIXED — Aircrafts, an early strong point, lost favor and closed mixed. Copper held unchanged to higher. Steels were mostly higher. Motors were largely lower. Utilities were higher on balance. Building materials were ahead. Some soft drinks were in demand. Otherwise the market was mixed.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks added 10 cents. That is the same amount it declined yesterday. The average closed at $125.70, a point equal to the high of the year registered Tuesday.

That is the best mark for the average since Oct. 25, 1929.

Volume was at its lowest ebb in a little more than three weeks at 1,810,000 shares.

CANADIAN PACIFIC — Canadian Pacific was the day's most active issue up 1 1/2 at 26 1/2 on 42,500 shares. It was the leader in the rail rally. National Theatres was second most active up 1/4 at 7 1/2 on 28,900 shares including one block of 15,000 shares at 7 1/2. Greyhound came next up 1/4 at 17 1/2.

The stocks have been quite active and higher in recent sessions during the circulation on merger rumors in Wall Street. New York investment bankers were reported getting ready a merger plan for consideration of the two companies.

There was only one aircraft among the 15 most active issues in contrast to popularity of those issues in that list recently. Boeing was 11th most active up 1/4 at 43 1/2.

CLYDE OWEN SAYS

When you buy a new car at a discount or a long trade it still costs you a lot. A good used car is the best buy and here are some examples:

'50 BUICK Super Riviera 2-Door Hard Top. Dynaflo, radio, heater, whitewall tires. A one-owner car with 25,000 actual miles. Can be verified. Has had exceptionally good care. Interior and exterior are clean as can be seen. The price is $1,095	'53 OLDSMOBILE "98" 4-Door. Hydra-Matic, radio, heater, whitewall tires. A one-owner car. This automobile cost $3,965 and has been driven 9,000 miles. Our price is $2,595. A depreciation of $1,373. A cost of about $150 for every thousand miles it has been.

We have a lot full of cars like these. Come by and see them and you be the judge. The question is—what is the best buy in an automobile?

HEADQUARTERS FOR CHEVROLET CARS AND TRUCKS ESTABLISHED 1869

It's a Fact!

Yes, it's a fact—there are four things to consider when purchasing a used car:

1. The mechanical condition of the car.
2. How it looks from an appearance standpoint.
3. It's price.
4. The reliability of the person or company from whom you purchase.

We believe we can fulfill the above requirements as well or better than anybody in town. Give us a chance to prove it to you. See our cars before you buy.

Picnic in White Gloves

By JEANNE HIGGINS
Constitution Food Editor.

When a picnic goes sophisticated the aunts who arrive in droves are probably relatives of the prospective June bride.

Whether the occasion is a bridal party, mother's bridge club or an afternoon tea, sandwiches go petite and cookies go pretty. Match up the two in a white glove picnic.

A simple solution to an assortment of party cookies is a cookey mix. The slightest additions to the basic dough mean a tremendous change in flavor and color accents. Bake the amount of cookies needed and store the rest in a covered canister for baking another day.

CAROUSEL COOKEY MIX

4 cups sifted enriched flour	2 cups brown sugar
2 teaspoons baking powder	1½ cups hydrogenated shortening
2 teaspoons soda	4 cups quick or old-fashioned, uncooked rolled oats
2 teaspoons salt

Sift together flour, baking powder, soda and salt three times. Mix in brown sugar. Cut in shortening until mixture resembles fine crumbs. Add rolled oats, mixing thoroughly. Store in covered container at room temperature. Makes 12 cups.

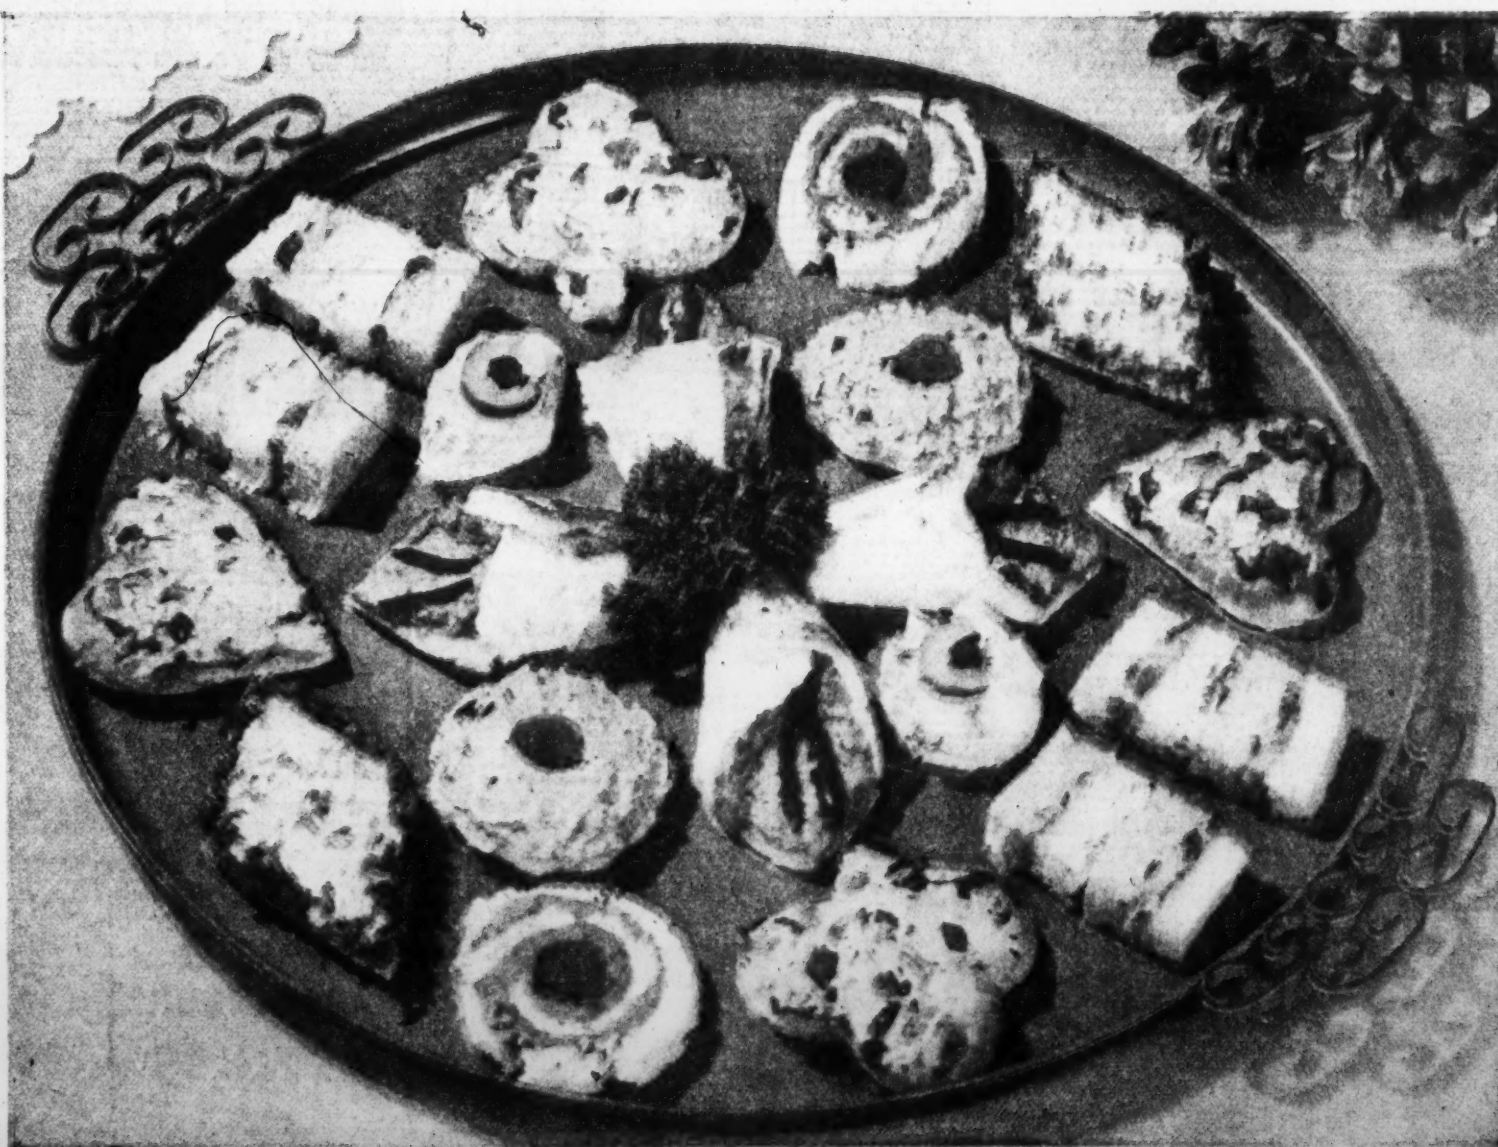

RIBBON BARS

¾ cup pitted cooked prunes	½ cup water
¾ cup cooked dried apricots	½ cup sugar
	2 cups cookey mix

Cook prunes, apricots, water and sugar together in saucepan until thick, stirring frequently.

Sprinkle 1 cup cookey mix over the bottom of ungreased 7 by 11-inch pan. Cover with even layer of fruit mixture. Sprinkle remaining cup of cookey mix evenly over fruit layer and press down. Bake in a

are picnic material, but formed as cornucopias, pinwheels and ribbons and made in petite sizes they are definitely for the white glove socials. One butter spread is varied four ways to make dainty treats. Use cookey cutters for spade, heart, club, diamond and round shapes from white or whole wheat bread. Cover with the spread and garnish with chopped parsley, olive or pickle slices or pimiento strips. For the pinwheels with the pickle in the center, slice a loaf of uncut bread lengthwise, cut off crust, spread evenly with liverwurst butter. Place a pickle at the end and roll it up. Wrap the roll in waxed paper and chill in the refrigerator for several hours or overnight. When ready to serve, slice into pinwheels with a sharp knife and serve immediately.

(Winning recipe, National Chicken Cooking Contest, Salisbury, Md.)

2 to 2½ pounds Natur-Tender
Broiling or frying chicken
1 lemon
¼ cup melted Triangle butter

1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon sugar
¼ teaspoon paprika
¼ teaspoon black pepper

Have chicken split in half for broiling. Rub entire surface of chicken with cut lemon, squeezing lemon to obtain plenty of juice. Coat with melted butter. Sprinkle with mixture of salt, sugar, paprika and pepper. Place in broiler pan, skin side down. Place broiler 5 to 7 inches from source of heat. Chicken should broil slowly. Adjust heat so chicken just begins to brown lightly in 10 minutes. Turn and brush with butter two or three times during broiling to brown and cook slowly. Total cooking time varies from 35 to 50 minutes. The chicken is done when the meat in the thickest part of the drumstick cuts easily and there is no pink color visible. Serve with pan drippings poured over top.

Grandmother's Muffins Carry Over to Modern

Nothing seems as warming for breakfast... or with dinner, than hot, fresh-from-the-oven muffins. This is a tradition brought down from the days when our grandmothers used to bake on cold days to help warm the house. But even in our steam-heated apartments or house, hot muffins are a comforting and cozy thought.

Here are two "quick" recipes. They both feature bran as a chief ingredient. This cereal is probably the most popular cereal cooking ingredient, contributing nutty-flavor to these muffins. Additionally, it has a tendency to retain part of the liquid which helps keep the muffins moist. In both recipes, one quick stirring is all that's required and the muffins are ready for the oven.

COCONUT BRAN MUFFINS

2 cups ready-to-eat bran
1/2 cup light molasses
1 1/2 cups milk
1 cup sifted flour
1 teaspoon soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup shredded coconut
1 egg, slightly beaten

Combine bran, molasses and milk; let stand until most of moisture is taken up. Sift together flour, soda and salt; add to all-bran mixture together with 2/3 cup coconut, stirring only until combined. Fill greased muffin pans two-thirds full; sprinkle with remaining coconut. Bake in moderately hot oven (400 degrees F.) about 25 minutes. Let stand about 5 minutes before removing from pans. 16 medium muffins.

UPSIDE-DOWN MUFFINS

1 cup ready-to-eat bran
1/2 cup milk
1 egg
1/2 cup shortening
1 cup sifted flour
2 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup sugar
2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
1/2 cup brown sugar
12 cooked apricots, drained

Combine bran and milk; let stand until most of moisture is taken up. Add egg and shortening; beat well. Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Add to all-bran mixture, stirring only until combined. In the bottom of each greased muffin cup place 1/2 teaspoon melted butter, and 1 teaspoon brown sugar and 1 apricot. Fill muffin cups about 2/3 full with batter; bake in moderately hot oven (400 degrees F.) about 25 minutes. 12 muffins.

Leftover Rice Offers Variety

It's always smart to prepare a whole package of pre-cooked rice at one time because leftover rice is so helpful in so many ways. Warmed in a delicious tomato spice sauce and served with meat loaf,

For Tossed Salad

Here's a delicious sandwich spread: mix soft cheddar cheese with chopped walnuts or pecans and pimiento-stuffed olives. If you are serving these at a party, use the spread for rolled sandwiches and put a sprig of watercress in the end of each roll.

Lemon Tarts Quickly Made With Use of Modern Mixes

Everybody's happy when you serve luscious, colorful lemon tarts for dessert from the man whose hearty appetite demands a sweet, substantial dessert, to the young lady who favors desserts that are pretty, gay and dainty.

It's so easy to make these lemon tarts and other popular desserts with a pudding and pie filling mix. All you do is add sugar, water and egg yolks according to the package directions—and you have a pudding or pie filling that's creamy smooth in texture, rice with tangy flavor of lemon.

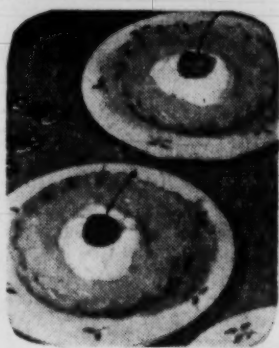

LEMON TARTS

2 egg yolks, slightly beaten
2 cups water
1 package lemon pudding and pie filling mix

½ cup sugar
6 baked 4-inch tart shells
½ cup cream, whipped
1. Mix egg yolks with ¼ cup of water in sauce pan. 2. Add pie filling mix and sugar; mix well. 3. Add remaining water gradually, stirring constantly. 4. Cook and stir over medium heat until mixture comes to a boil and is thickened. 5. Cool slightly (about 5 minutes), stirring once or twice. 6. Turn into tart shells. Chill. 7. Top with whipped cream. 8. Garnish with maraschino cherries. Makes 6 tarts.

drained canned apricot halves for a delectable dessert. Use the syrup left from the apricots in a cold drink or for basting baked ham.

Sandwich Loaf Is Glamourized With Frosting of Cream Cheese

It's how you slice it that makes this sandwich loaf intriguing. Begin with an unsliced loaf of enriched bread. Cut lengthwise into 4 strips. Butter strips and spread, each, with one of three different fillings such as walnut-smoked cheese, tuna-olive mixture and hard-cooked egg blended with avocado. Bread slices are on both top and bottom. Press loaf firmly together, wrap in waxed paper and chill for an hour. Frost top and sides of loaf with cream cheese softened with cream. Garnish with pickle fans and place sliced, stuffed olives on top. To serve, slice crosswise.

Chicken and Rice

When you have some extra chicken stock, try cooking rice in it.

A&P's JUMBO JUNE VALUES...

Congratulations, Graduates!

Thousands of fine young Americans are graduating from high schools and colleges this month... and we are proud of them all. Here at A&P, we're particularly proud to welcome many of them into the ranks of our loyal employees... just as we are proud to welcome graduates of prior generations during the 94 years that A&P has been part of the American scene.

We constantly strive to make A&P a better place to work... a better place to shop. If you have any suggestions as to how we can make your shopping easier, or if you are interested in an A&P career, please tell your friendly A&P Manager.

Dressing Making Is Practical Art

Dressing making is a practical art since dressing often makes the salad.

When you start with a commercial mayonnaise it's easy to create your own gourmet dressing. For example this new discovery, many island dressing, is destined to be as popular as its cousin, thousand island.

PRACTICAL ART
Many Island Dressing

Its rich flavor is perfect on wedges of crisp head lettuce, and serve it liberally. For an attractive salad arrangement, frame the lettuce wedges on the darker green of leaf lettuce and garnish with fluted cucumber slices.

Mayonnaise is an excellent dressing in itself, but since it is compatible with most any flavor, use it to create a variety of dressings. Here are two variations that are also delicious on head lettuce and tossed salad.

Add crumbled blue or Roquefort cheese to mayonnaise or blend mayonnaise with French dressing for another entirely new dressing.

MANY ISLAND DRESSING
1 cup mayonnaise
1 tablespoon drained pickle relish

1. tablespoon finely chopped stuffed olives
2. tablespoons chopped celery
1. tablespoon finely chopped parsley
2. teaspoons catsup
- Dash of cayenne
1. Blend all of the ingredients and chill. 2. Serve with lettuce and cucumber salad.

LETTUCE DRESSING

1. 1/2 teas. salt
- 1/4 teas. dry mustard
- 1/4 teas. paprika
2. tbs. sugar
3. tbs. mayonnaise
1. tbs. cider vinegar
- 1/4 cup lemon juice
- 2-3 cup evap. milk
1. Mix salt and spices with sugar then add to mayonnaise. 2. Stir in vinegar and lemon juice, then evaporated milk (one can of milk—small). 4. This makes enough for 6-8 portions of salad.

Use Tapioca For Berry Pies

Try quick-cooking tapioca as your thickening agent for berry pies if you haven't already. Specially for party ones like red raspberries or blueberries where you want the juice to be clear, unclouded brilliant color. Replace constarch with an equal measurement of tapioca in your favorite berry pie recipe and notice what a natural berry flavor you get, without any starchy taste.

Roasting Tip

When you are roasting a loin end of pork be sure to place it fat side up in the roasting pan; the rib bones will form a natural rack.

Eggs a la King Tasty Supper Treat

Ever serve eggs a la king for Sunday night supper? To make the sauce add mustard Worcestershire, sliced canned mushrooms, canned pimiento and green pepper strips to white sauce. Pour the hot sauce over quartered hard-cooked eggs and sprinkle with paprika.

* Compared to ordinary macaroni, Skinner Enriched Macaroni gives you twice as much Iron, nine times as much Vitamin B1 (Thiamin), six times as much Vitamin B2, and almost three times as much Niacin.

NEW!

the only deodorant soap with cold cream too!

CREAMY-WHITE CREAMADE PROTECTS YOUR SKIN FROM DRYNESS AS IT PROTECTS YOUR DAINTINESS

You've heard of deodorant soaps. You know some are effective. But—you'd have to use a deodorant soap plus two other kinds of soap to gain the benefits a single bar of Creamade contains! Creamade is not just another deodorant soap—it's a beauty soap, too! Creamade gives you the 3 essentials of true skin care: pure, creamy-white soap... rich cold cream... and hexachlorophene (the wonderful ingredient science developed to kill skin bacteria that cause complexion problems and unpleasant body odors).

WHY YOU NEED A COLD CREAM SOAP

Every time you wash with an ordinary soap, you remove some of the wonderful, natural oils in your skin... oils which keep it soft. This is because soap draws out oils just as it draws out dirt. Now a baby's soft, delicate skin is a perfect example of skin which has all its natural oils. But years of washing with ordinary soap dries skin and it loses that lovely creamy look.

However, when soap and cold cream are blended scientifically, the soap is so saturated with the oils of the cold cream that it cannot deplete your skin of its own oils. That's why a cold cream soap like Creamade is a "must" for good skin care.

WHY NOT JUST USE COLD CREAM?

Cold cream alone cannot give your skin the thorough, penetrating cleansing it needs. Rid your skin of the thousands of invisible bacteria which lie on the surface and work their way into the pores where they then begin to form blackheads and blemishes.

That's why Creamade is a soap—not a cold cream. And that's why Creamade contains hexachlorophene—the marvelous ingredient that will keep your skin fresh and clear.

CONTAINS HEXACHLOROPHENE TO CLEAR SKIN

Hexachlorophene is an invisible, safe ingredient that kills up to 95% of the skin bacteria which cause and spread infections.

When skin is as free of bacteria as this, it is almost impossible for blemishes, blackheads or whiteheads to form. If you have an oily skin, hexachlorophene can work real wonders in helping to develop a clear complexion.

Best of all, hexachlorophene gives you many hours of active protection—even under makeup! If you use Creamade each time you wash, your skin will be protected all the time.

MEMO TO MEN:

This is how hexachlorophene deodorizes Hexachlorophene kills bacteria that cause body odors. Because it clings, it keeps new bacteria from forming. Test its effectiveness this way. Cut an onion in half—run your fingers over the cut side. Then, wash your hands well with Creamade. The onion odor will be completely gone! That's because hexachlorophene clings. You don't wipe it off when you rinse or dry your hands.

CREAMADE IS WRAPPED IN GOLD FOIL!

Looks elegant—has a fresh, light scent—yet costs only a few pennies more than plain, ordinary soaps.

Now that you know how many wonderful things Creamade will do for you, wouldn't it be smart to buy it tomorrow? You'll find it in your supermarket and grocery store.

Fresh Pineapple Stars In Next Week's Menus

Let your imagination plus fresh pineapple turn next week's breakfasts into an epicurean's dream. Large, sweet pineapples are in season and ready to dress up meals as an appetizer or dessert.

You can tell whether a fresh pineapple is ripe by pulling out the leaves. If they pull out easily and the fruit is slightly soft and decidedly fragrant, it is ready for use.

If the fresh pineapple weighs about 2 pounds, it will yield about four cups of grated pineapple or about two and one-half cups small cubes.

What every good cook knows:

Just a little difference in ingredients makes a big difference in cooking results

Snowdrift gives just a little more safety in frying, because it heats perfectly to correct high frying temperatures. That can make the big difference in digestibility.

Snowdrift is just a little lighter than any other shortening—and that can make the big difference in giving your family lighter foods, whether fried or baked.

Snowdrift's ingredients are just a little costlier than any other solid shortening (yet you pay no more). And that can make the big difference in better tasting foods.

No other shortening at any price

THE EASE OF THIS MENU CHARMS ALL
Features Cornmeal Tulip Cups and Oat Meringues

Molly Mixit

A Party Luncheon Can Be Easy To Do

You'll charm and be charmed by the ease in preparation and serving of Molly's bridal luncheon menu. Most of the work can be done in advance. Thirty minutes before serving time, fill the corn meal cups with a special chicken salad and bake. In the meantime, make coffee, turn out the salad mold and fill the meringues. Notice that the meringues are made with rolled oats. This is a modern treatment guaranteed to add a sweet nut-like flavor that's wonderful. The dragees that decorate the meringues will sparkle plenty, just like the diamond band your honored guest will soon be wearing.

TULIP CUPS
3 cups sifted enriched flour
1 cup enriched corn meal
2 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 cup shortening
2-3 cup water

For tulip cups, sift together dry ingredients. Cut in shortening until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Add water a little at a time, until dough will just hold together. Turn out on lightly floured board and knead gently a few seconds. Divide dough in half; roll each half out to form a rectangle 10x15 inches. Cut into six 5-inch squares. Place squares in custard cups shaping dough against the sides of the cups and allowing corners to hang over.

Fill each pastry-lined cup with chicken salad; place cups on cookie sheet and bake in hot oven (400 degrees F.) 25 to 30 minutes. Serve hot.

CHICKEN SALAD
3 cups cut-up cooked chicken
2 cups chopped celery

½ cup chopped blanched almonds
1-3 cup chopped green pepper
2 tablespoons chopped pimiento
2 tablespoons minced onion
¼ teaspoon curry powder
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
¼ cup mayonnaise
¼ cup grated Swiss cheese
Combine ingredients for chicken salad.

AVOCADO SALAD

2 packages lime-flavored gelatin
2 cups boiling water
1½ cups cold water
¼ cup lemon juice
2 teaspoons horseradish
1 large avocado, sliced
1 cup grapefruit sections
½ cup chopped celery
2 tablespoons pimiento
1. Dissolve gelatin in boiling water; add cold water, lemon juice and horseradish. 2. Chill until mixture is partially set. 3. Carefully stir in avocado, grapefruit, celery and pimiento. 4. Pour into mold and chill until firm.

STUDDER MERINGUES

6 egg whites
1 teaspoon vinegar
2 teaspoons vanilla
¼ teaspoon red food coloring
½ teaspoon salt
1½ cups sugar
¾ cup rolled oats (quick or old fashioned, uncooked)
Silver dragees

Place egg whites, vinegar, vanilla, food coloring and salt in bowl. Beat until frothy. Add sugar gradually, about a tablespoon at a time, beating well after each addition. Continue beating until mixture is stiff and glossy. Lightly fold in the rolled oats.

Place meringue in 12 mounds on ungreased wrapping paper on cookie sheets. Using a spatula spread meringue out from center and build up sides to resemble a pie shell. Outline edges with silver dragees. Bake in a very slow oven (275 degrees F.) 45 minutes to 1 hour. Cool thoroughly. Remove from paper. Serve filled with Raspberry Bavarian.

Fresh Georgia Peaches Are Rushing to Dinner Tables

Peach Kuchen is a typical German Kuchen just like that baked for generations. A thin, rich Kuchen dough forms the base and contains corn meal for extra flavor, texture and tender good eating.

It's an excellent time to begin taking advantage of those first Georgia peaches reaching the market, and peach kuchen is the very best way to use them.

Peaches line the top in symmetrical rows, baked in a custard which is added toward the last of the baking time. The custard bakes right into the Kuchen with delightfully good eating as the result; another typical feature.

PEACH KUCHEN

1-3 cup enriched corn meal
1 cup sifted enriched flour
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1/4 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup shortening
1 egg, beaten
1 tablespoon milk
2 cups sliced peaches, fresh, frozen or canned
1/2 cup brown sugar

CUSTARD

1 egg yolk, beaten
1/4 cup milk
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
1. Sift together corn meal, flour, baking powder, sugar and salt. 2. Cut in shortening until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. 3. Add milk to beaten egg. 4. Combine all at once with dry ingredients. 5. Pat mixture into bottom and sides of a 7x11-inch pan. 4. Arrange peaches in two rows over dough. 7. Sprinkle brown sugar on peaches. Bake in moderately hot oven (400 degrees F.) for 15 minutes.

1. Combine beaten egg yolk, milk and nutmeg. 2. Pour over peaches. 3. Continue baking kuchen 5 to 10 minutes longer, or until custard is firm.

Chef Admits Bakery-Made Pastries Are Less Complex

NEW YORK, June 3 (INS)—If the famous restaurant pastry recipes you try at home never come out right, be consoled by some comments from a master pastry chef.

The chef is Jean Dinauze of New York, a 56-year-old Frenchman who's been whipping up fancy cakes since he was 12.

Dinauze is delighted when a housewife asks for the recipes he uses, but always warns the ladies that the difference between professional bakeries and the usual kitchen stove is going to make results taste different.

"Oven heat is of extreme importance in baking," he points out, "and the professional oven heats up to 700 degrees. The average stove cannot duplicate this."

"A professional chef also uses different kinds of flour for each recipe, and usually pure butter instead of commercial shortening. How many housewives can afford this?"

Chef Dinauze, who has won seven cups and 14 gold medals in international pastry exhibitions, is currently making pies and cakes for a New York chop house. He has a complete bakery and a staff of assistant chefs to help him in his work.

"I can afford to spend hours on every detail in the recipe. I never use prepared mixes," he said. "But most women do not be disappointed, if her pastries have the time to follow recipes exactly; they have to work with prepared mixes and ingredients. That is why a woman should not be disappointed, if her pastries are not the same as a chef's. After all, she cannot copy a professional workshop in her home kitchen."

FROZEN DOWNYFLAKE 1 MINUTE WAFFLES

Waffles and Orange Sauce For Breakfast

Let's start with breakfast! A simple menu but a good one is in order. And too good to overlook is a suggestion for waffles with Orange Sauce—start with your sauce—easy to make and planned to lift any waffle into the gourmet class. And here is something to bear in mind. You can make up almost any sauce way ahead of time. The secret is to keep it tightly covered. By keeping the air away from the sauce the thin film is avoided that forms on the surface of a sauce as it stands. It's this film that spoils the velvety smoothness aimed for in a good sauce.

Choose a simple waffle recipe—any standard cook book will have one—or use a mix.

ORANGE SAUCE

1/2 cup sugar
1 tablespoon cornstarch
1 cup boiling water
1 can frozen orange juice (undiluted)
2 tablespoons butter or margarine

1. Blend together sugar and cornstarch in heavy pan. 2. Add boiling water very slowly, stirring constantly until mixture is smooth. Place pan over moderate heat and continue to stir until mixture comes to a boil. 3. Let boil 3 minutes still stirring. 5. Add orange juice, undiluted, and stir until well blended. 6. Add butter or margarine and stir until melted. 7. Serve hot over waffles.

Armour Brings You Big Shortening News

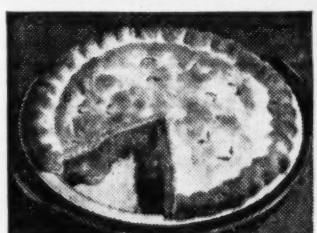

NEW! ARMIX® SHORTENING! AMAZING PATENTED DISCOVERY

Extra Creaminess Gives Higher Cakes

Here's a new cake secret: To get high, light-textured cakes, don't tire your arms with long whipping and stirring. Just use the new pre-creamed Armix shortening. It is made an entirely new way so that its fluffiness holds up even in hot summer weather.

Quicker Mixing Gives Flakier Pies

To prevent over-long mixing—a cause of tough pie crusts and biscuits—use Armix. Pre-creamed Armix blends so quickly with flour that both pies and biscuits bake to flaky tenderness. Even amateurs achieve that "expert touch" with Armix.

Fried Foods Crisp and Digestible

Research Laboratory tests show that Armix is actually as digestible as pure sweet butter. In addition it fries foods quickly to a lovely golden brown and seals the goodness in.

Now Available in Atlanta

U. S. PATENT RE. 23499

Here's the shortening you have been waiting for!

Yes, here's the improved shortening that southern hostesses have been hoping for! It's the new patented Armix, made a wonderful new way that will make your baking and frying so much easier—so failure-proof. Do take advantage now of the money-saving offer described below. Try Armix this week.

A HINT FROM MARIE GIFFORD

Try This Easy Way to Measure Armix for Cakes, Pies, Biscuits

When recipes call for less than one cup of Armix, the easiest way to measure is in water in a measuring cup.

For example, to measure 3/4 cup, fill cup with 1 1/2 cup cold water. Then add Armix until water level reaches one-cup line, being sure that water covers Armix entirely. This way, you easily get the right amount of Armix, and the Armix never sticks to the cup.

Armix Actually as Digestible as Fresh, Sweet Butter

The Armour Research Scientists who developed new patented Armix shortening have found it is actually as digestible as pure, sweet butter!

This is wonderful news for homemakers whose families are fond of Southern fried foods. It means that young and old can eat and eat when food is fried the new Armix way.

Yes! with Armix you can now feel free to serve Southern delicacies day after day, fried either in a skillet or French-fried in deep fat.

In addition to being as digestible as good butter, Armix is smoke-free at high frying temperatures.

Everything You've Ever Wanted in a Shortening

Just imagine a shortening so fluffy and creamy that it gives you magic quick blending whether it's chilly winter-time or a hot summer day. That's what Armix, the pre-creamed shortening does for you.

Pure, white Armix is so creamy and smooth that it blends with little effort—no more long, arm-tiring mixing—no more failures from over-mixing when you mix the Armix way.

This gentle Armix way of mixing gives you higher, finer-textured cakes, flakier pies, and tender biscuits. And, remember, too, that Armix is just as digestible as fresh sweet butter—gives you fried foods that are crisp, golden, and extra-digestible.

EXTRA! WRITE FOR FREE ARMIX GIFT

Marie Gifford will send you, free, her new Armix pastry brush and Armix recipe folder. Simply write to Marie Gifford, Dept. B10, Armour and Co., Chicago 9, Ill. There's nothing to send. Simply ask for them.

How This New Invention Makes Your Baking Easy

by Marie Gifford famous Armour home economist

Marie Gifford

Armix is a brand new development in shortenings, never before possible. It is a wonderful shortening discovery for which the U. S. Government granted Armour a patent. Only Armix can give you Armix performance.

How Armix came to be developed

Armour asked homemakers what they wanted in a shortening that ordinary shortenings had failed to give them. Replies showed that the South's high cooking standards require a shortening pre-creamed for faster mixing—a shortening, too, that is able to keep its fluffy creamy texture no matter what the temperature. In addition an extra-digestibility was needed for Southern fried foods.

It took years of laboratory research to develop Armix, the shortening that meets all these requirements. Then came extensive testing in Armour's Home Economics Kitchens. And finally, consumer testing in many a southern home.

Now Armix is ready for the South. It is waiting for you now at your dealers.

I want you to try Armix. This is the only way you can really know what a wonderful shortening it is. You will see too, why the U. S. Government granted Armour a patent. Please take advantage of the money-saving offer below.

Buy a 3-lb. tin of wonderful new Armix and your grocer will give you a 1-lb. tin for only one penny. Try Armix soon—I'm sure you'll like it.

Some Shortenings Good for Cakes, Others for Pies, Still Others for Frying. Armix Does All 3 to Perfection

For Cakes you need a shortening that never gets brittle in winter; always stays creamy and fluffy. On the other hand, to make flaky pies and biscuits, a shortening must never get "oily"—no matter how high the temperature.

And for light digestible fried foods, shortening should get hot without smoking, so that foods fry quickly, sealing in all their goodness.

In Armix you have a shortening that brings you all these advantages in one perfect, do-everything shortening!

Mile-High Guarantee

"Mile-high" is the only way we can describe what Armour's guarantee on Armix gives you. Armour insists that if you don't find all the advantages that our ads say you can expect, we will gladly refund your purchase price.

Armour and Company

Great for Biscuits, Too!

A Rhyme a Day

"Political prophets see no dearth of candidates in this important election year."—Political column quote.

I think I know... where birdies go... when winter brings its ice and snow... they fly away... down south and stay... until the cold winds cease to blow... they reappear... when spring is near... to sing and flutter to and fro... but I suppose... nobody knows... where all the politicians go.

Chorus:
I don't know where they journeyed, but I know that they are back... they're crawling from the woodwork, they are oozing from each crack... they're hanging on the ceiling and they're falling on the floor... and some are of a species we have never seen before.

They never die... they multiply... each year there is a larger crop... and though they meet... with much defeat... you never find one you can stop... they hibernate... while they await... the coming of election year... and where they go... I do not know... I only know that they are here.

(Repeat chorus until exhausted)

The bidding:
South West North East
1 heart 2 diamonds 2 hearts 3 diamonds
4 hearts Pass Pass Pass
Opening lead: King of diamonds.

It is not very often that we witness the spectacle of a declarer blocking himself in dummy with an eight spot, but it happened in the incident recorded today.

The final contract appears to be reasonable enough, but the method by which it was reached is not approved in its entirety. Reference is being made to North's bid of two hearts, which we designate as highly unsound. A free raise should never be given with a hand valued at only six points, and North should have passed over West's bid of two diamonds. This would not have affected the final contract, for after South's rebid and North's belated raise South would surely have reached for game.

West opened the king of diamonds and declarer ruffed the second round of the suit with the queen of hearts. Declarer cashed the ace and king of trumps and then led a low spade to dummy's king. East won with the ace and returned the deuce of clubs. Declarer played the nine which went to West's ten. The king of clubs came back, forcing declarer's ace, and now dummy was entered with a trump and declarer led the three of spades and finessed the ten. His hope rested with finding the jack of spades favorably located and the spades 3-3, in which case dummy's losing club could be discarded on South's fourth spade.

When the nine dropped from the West hand, declarer had East's jack surrounded. He entered dummy with a trump and led the eight of spades. However, East was not obliging enough to cover, and declarer found himself locked in dummy and obliged to lose a club trick.

Winning the hand depended upon no greater precaution than leading the eight of spades instead of the three on the second round of that suit. The ten will win as before, and now declarer leads his last trump over to dummy and sends through the three of spades. East plays low, of course, but South has a proven winner in the seven of spades, and upon the queen he discards the losing diamond out of the dummy. Observe that under no distribution of the cards can it prove costly for declarer to play the eight of spades when he leads the second round of that suit.

10,000 Churches Are Needed in U.S.

Dr. E. Ellsworth Smith lives in Culver City, Calif.

"I've been a minister for 71 years," he wrote recently. "Started as a home missionary in the West during the transition from the public grazing lands to the homesteader era.

"I organized more than 100 churches by myself and helped erect 41 church buildings and parsonages.

"Why, I used to travel 25,000 miles per year, large by horse. And that reminds me of a famous question I saw in the Christian Advocate over 50 years ago.

"It ran: 'Which is better: Common sense or religion?' And the right answer was 'common sense.' For if a man has common sense, he will get religion. But if he does not have it, no amount of religion will give it to him.

"Well, I certainly appreciate these daily psychology articles and especially the bulletins, too."

RELIGIOUS DYNAMO

Dr. Smith is a religious dynamo. He personally typed a two-page letter, single spaced.

And he gave me several relevant cases within his vast experience that were gems of practical psychology.

But my chief reason in mentioning him today is to show that a trained mind continues to function into a ripe old age.

He wants to organize a "Compliment Club" as a project for his local Masonic Lodge in nearby Beverly Hills. He is its chaplain.

He also urges the formation of such a club by every woman's society in the various churches.

He is a veritable dynamo of constructive religious zeal, and though almost as old as St. John, the Apostle, he is vigorously helping make this world more Christian.

10,000 CHALLENGES

So I am offering him and all of you other retired clergy 10,000 challenges.

For it has been estimated that we are critically in need at this very moment of 10,000 churches in the United States.

Millions of children have NO

AUNT HET

I despise a fake accent. When folks try to seem what they ain't, it means they're ashamed of what they are.

church of any denomination within convenient distance of their homes.

So why don't you retired clergymen throw your trained energies into launching skeleton church groups in these critical areas?

Hold Sunday school in the basement of some home that is now equipped for ping pong and other youthful recreation. Such a basement would hold 50 kids.

You may win more souls and do more good in a cottage church meeting than is being done in the million-dollar downtown church.

So help get these vital 10,000 church organizations going!

Miniature sandwiches spread with a variety of butter spreads are extra good eating for parties. From one cup of butter and a few seasonings, four different and delicious fillings can be made such as sardine butter, deviled ham butter, liverwurst butter and creole butter.

Cornucopias are made from thin-sliced bread from which the crust is removed. Spread slice with filling, bring the two opposite corners of the slice of bread together and fasten with a toothpick. Strips of pimiento are added in the center for color. Brush the outside with melted butter and place under the broiler to toast for several minutes before serving. Here's a hint to make the bread thin enough to fold nicely—flatten with a rolling pin.

The ribbon sandwiches are made by alternating slices of whole wheat and white bread, spreading a filling between and cutting through.

Sandwiches may be made in advance and stored in waxed paper, plastic bags or in a cloth wrung out in cold water. Many types of sandwiches may be frozen. However, they should not be frozen longer than two weeks. In choosing recipes for freezing, avoid mayonnaise and boiled salad dressing, hard-cooked egg whites, jellies and all crisp salad materials. Most garnishes cannot be frozen. They can be easily added just before serving.

BUTTER SPREAD

1 cup soft butter
1 tablespoon lemon
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 teaspoon prepared mustard

Combine all ingredients and beat until light and fluffy. Divide mixture into fourths and to each part add one of the following, mixing well.

SARDINE BUTTER: One 3 1/2-ounce can sardines, make into a smooth paste.

CREOLE BUTTER: 1 tablespoon stuffed olives, finely chopped; 1 tablespoon finely chopped sweet pickles; 1 pimiento, finely chopped; 1/4 teaspoon paprika.

LIVERWURST BUTTER: 2 slices smoked liverwurst, mashed.

DEVILED HAM BUTTER: One 2 1/2-ounce can deviled ham; 2 tablespoons finely-chopped sweet pickle and 1 teaspoon chopped onion.

Creaming Sugar, Fat Is Important Step

When you are making a butter cake and the recipe directs that the fat and the sugar be "creamed" well, be sure to do so. This creaming incorporates air into the batter and helps to make a light fluffy cake. The creaming may be done with the electric mixer. To cream by hand, tilt the mixing bowl and work the shortening and sugar together with the back of a wooden spoon against the sides of the bowl until smooth and light in texture.

ADD GLAMOUR TO SANDWICH MAKING
Serve Shrimpburgers With Pickles and Relish

New Shrimpburgers Bring Glamour to Picnic Meals

The extra glamour that goes with these sandwiches doesn't require long preparation in the kitchen, and shrimpburgers are something different that everyone will enjoy.

Serve with sweet mixed pickles and sweet pickle relish. Add crunch potato chips and a lunch, supper or picnic meal is complete.

PICKLE SHRIMPBURGERS

2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1/2 pound fresh shrimp, shelled and deveined

1/4 cup chopped sweet gherkins
1/4 cup finely chopped onion
1/2 teaspoon salt
Dash paprika

4 sweet gherkins, sliced lengthwise
4 hamburger rolls, buttered and toasted

1. Melt butter or margarine over low heat. 2. Add shrimp, 1-3 cup gherkins, onion, salt and pepper. 3. Cook until shrimp turn pink, about 6 minutes. 4. Arrange sweet gherkin slices on bottom roll halves. Arrange shrimp mixture over pickle slices and cover with top roll halves.

PICKLE PEANUT BUTTER FILLING

1/4 cup peanut butter
2 tablespoons honey
1/2 cup chopped dill pickles
8 slices buttered bread

1. Combine peanut butter, honey and dill pickles; mix well. 2. Spread 4 slices bread with pickle mixture. 3. Top with remaining bread.

Waffle Iron Adds Novelty To Toast-Quick Sandwiches

In sandwich making, novel ideas come along "once in a blue moon," but a toasted waffle sandwich is one that is novel, nourishing, quick and easy to make, and exceedingly good to eat. Its streamlined preparation time is made possible by three of our homemaking time-releasers, the waffle maker, the food freezer and the toaster. Toast-Quicks are made in advance, waffled, then cooled, wrapped in moisture-proof paper

GRILLED OLIVE-CHEESE

1/4 cup grated processed American cheese
2 tablespoons chopped ripe olives

1 tablespoon chopped pimiento
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon finely granted onion

6 slices enriched bread

1. Combine cheese, ripe olives, pimiento, mustard, salt and onion. 2. Spread bread with butter. 3. Cover 4 slices of bread with 2 tablespoons olive-cheese filling. 4. Cover with a matching slice of bread. 5. Spread butter on outside of sandwich. 6. Place sandwiches in preheated waffle iron and toast until light brown. Serve immediately or cool and seal sandwiches in moisture - vapor proof paper of foil. 7. Separate each layer of sandwiches by a piece of aluminum foil. Label and freeze 2 weeks or less. 8. To serve place frozen waffled sandwich into toaster and toast twice or place on a shallow pan and heat through in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.).

NOW 2 NEW RINSOS!

Rinso White or Rinso Blue

Soap or Detergent? It's up to you!

RINSO WHITE
Now richer than ever!

THIS is the song of Rinso White,
The soap we've made for your delight.
It washes whiter and brighter than new
And saves you barrels of money too.
It's extra rich and it's extra kind
And it leaves old Rinso far behind!

RINSO BLUE
Blues as it washes!

THIS is the song of Rinso Blue,
Complete detergent—completely new.
It blues your wash as it gets it clean
And it's wonderful in your washing machine.
It's swell for dishes and glasses too
This highly remarkable Rinso Blue.

From the RINSO SONG—to the tune of "Boys and Girls Come Out to Play."

Rinso White and Rinso Blue

Both wash whiter and brighter than new!

Whether it rhymes or not, every word in these two songs is guaranteed by Lever Brothers Company to be true. And don't forget, when it's got to be really white, use Rinso with Solium—either Rinso, Soap or Detergent.
